

ILLUSTRATED INDEX

$2.00

CANADA
$2.95

No 8

JUSTICE LEAGUE of AMERICA

LAST
ISSUE

Murray R. Ward
Editor

Mike Tiefenbacher
Writer

Laura Ward
Editorial assistant

Tony Frutti
Typography and production

Justice League of America Index

Consultant
George Olshevsky

Cover Artist
Luke McDonnell

Reviewers
Ron Blalkowski
Robert Klein
Andrew MacLaney
Lou Mouglin
Mark Wald
John Wells

Addenda and Errata

As is our custom in the final issue of each volume of the DC Index, we will attempt to catalogue such mistakes, other than minor typographical errors, as have made their way into print in previous issues without being detected. Following is a list of corrections for issues #1-7. Most of these changes are ones of character continuity, and some do not represent oversights on our part, but merely reflect new data that has come to light in issues published by DC Comics since the Index began. Anyone finding possible additional errors, or errors in this issue, or even errors in our list of corrections, is invited to contact the author at the address on the inside back cover of most issues of this Index.

Most of the revisions this time around were made based on data provided by the newcomers who have joined our crew of reviewers since the series began. We would like to extend particular thanks to Ronald Blalkowski for research above and beyond the call of duty and for the Zatanna chronology, and to John Wells for equally exemplary research and for the Red Tornado index and chronology. Although he is hardly a newcomer, we would also like to thank Mike Tiefenbacher for writing the bulk of this issue when your humble editor was too busy with the other volumes in the series to do so.

Apologia: Many months ago, the staff of DC Comics sent us some belated staff corrections in the form of a copy of issue #3 with the corrections added in ink. Unfortunately, this copy has apparently been misplaced following our move to new quarters last summer. We apologize profusely for this unhappy accident. Had we realized earlier that the data had been lost, we might have resolicited corrections from DC. As it is, the deadline is looming and we have no time to do so. We hope to publish these and further addenda in future editions and updates.

Issue #1

Lou Mouglin's name was inadvertently omitted from the list of reviewers in issues #1-4. We also wish to apologize for the generally poor condition of the cover reproductions in this issue and the next. At the last moment, the better-condition copies of the issues in question which we had hoped to use were not available to us. In the introductory Synopsis, the Atom's membership begins with issue #14, not #41, and Hawkman's origin is amended slightly in The Brave and the Bold #43.

JLA #5

The Credits listing was omitted and should read as follows: "Editor, plotter: Julius Schwartz; Plotter, scripter: Gardner Fox; Penciler: Mike Sekowsky; Inker: Bernard Sachs; Letterer: Gaspar Saladino."

Issue #2

JLA #21

Hourman's last chronological appearance was in flashback in America vs. The Justice Society #1. Black Canary's last chronological appearance was in flashback in issue #220. Chronological analysis of the various Justice Society flashbacks in issues of Infinity, Inc. has not yet been completed, so these corrections will not reflect that data.

JLA #49

The second Comment should read: "Superman, Batman, Flash, and Green Lantern appear in this story immediately following their appearance in Blackhawk #229."

JLA #51

Zatara appears next in the Elongated Man story in Detective Comics #379.

JLA #52

Hawkgirl appears in between Hawkman #17 and #18.

JLA #53

The final Comment should be amended to read: "The Justice League joins forces with Supergirl in Action Comics #350, then appears in Superman's Girl Friend Lois Lane #74 following this story."

Issue #3

JLA #60

Hawkgirl was last seen in Hawkman #21 and appears next in #65.

JLA #62

A Comment should be added to read: "Following this story, the Justice League defeats the Scorpion Mob behind the scenes in Superman's Pal Jimmy Olsen #111.

JLA #65

Hawkgirl was last seen in issue #60. Dr. Mid-Nite and Starman appear behind the scenes only in this story.

JLA #71

Diana Prince and I Ching appear in between page 23, panel 5 and 6 of Wonder Woman #184. J'onn J'onzz appears next in Superman #253.

JLA #72

Red Tornado's last chronological appearance is in flashback in next issue.

JLA #79

The Vigilante appears next in Adventure Comics #417.

JLA #81

Jean Loring appears next in the Atom story in Detective Comics #432.

JLA #83

A Comment should be added to read: "The Justice League appears in The Flash #199 following this story."

JLA #87

Zatanna appears next in World's Finest Comics #207. Jack B. Quick appears next, as Captain Speed, in Justice League #2. Silver Sorceress, Blue Jay, and Wandjina all appear next in Justice League #2.

JLA #92

Atom of Earth-2 appears next, behind the scenes, in All-Star Comics #74.

JLA #94

The Morgan Edge impostor was last seen in Superman #244 and appears next in Superman's Girl Friend Lois Lane #116.

Issue #4

JLA #98

Hawkgirl appears next in World's Finest Comics #209.

JLA #100

Zatanna was last seen in Adventure Comics #421.

JLA #103

Felix Faust appears next in the second story in Wonder Woman #218. Tom Fagan appears next in Freedom Fighters #6. Gerry Conway appears next in DC Super-Stars #18.

JLA #105

Sue Dibny was last seen in The Flash #221.

(Continued on page 32)

Justice League of America #238

May 1985

Cover Credits

Artists: Paris Cullins (penciler) and Mike Machlan (inker; Signed)

Letterer: Gaspar Saladino

STORY

"Savage Symphony" (23 Pages)

Credits

Editor: Alan Gold

Plotter, scripter: Gerry Conway

Penciler: Chuck Patton

Inker: Mike Machlan

Letterer: Ben Oda

Colorist: Gene D'Angelo

Feature Characters

Superman, Flash, Wonder Woman, Aquaman, J'onn J'onzz, Elongated Man, Zatanna, Vixen, Steel, Vibe, and Gypsy

Supporting Character

Dale Gunn

Villains

Anton Allegro (dies in this story)

The Mad Maestro (real name, Pasha Gorki, revealed in this story; no further appearances to date)

General Anton Gorki (no further appearances to date)

General Mustapha Maksai and his men (last seen in issue #235; one dies in this story)

Other Characters

General Maksai's unnamed masseuse (first and only appearance to date)

Mother Windom (last seen in issue #233)

Soviet pilots, ground controllers, soldiers, two asylum guards, and an unidentified political prisoner (first and only appearance of all to date)

Dimitri Ivanovich (no further appearances to date)

Comment

The story continues in part in the next issue.

Synopsis

Dale Gunn has convinced Steel's grandfather to use his CIA contacts to find out where the three former JLA members are held captive, and the team flies to Russia. Meanwhile, Superman, Flash, and Wonder Woman attempt an escape with help from Allegro and Dimitri Ivanovich, but are met outside the asylum by General Gorki and his troops.

The Justice League plane has avoided the fighters, and Gypsy instructs them to head underwater to the asylum grounds, where they take the Soviets by surprise, and easily overcome them. The Mad Maestro's paralyzing music is more formidable, and only Anton Allegro's smashing of the keyboard saves them. Gorki kills Allegro, and Gypsy displays powers of illusion which drive Gorki mad.

The team flies home, the now mobile super-heroes still unaware of what has happened to their team in their short absence.

Justice League of America #239

June 1985

Cover Credits

Artists: Chuck Patton (penciler) and Mike Machlan (inker; Signed)

Letterer: Gaspar Saladino

STORY

"In the Shadow of the Ox" (23 Pages)

Credits

Editor: Alan Gold

Plotter, scripter: Gerry Conway

Pencilers: Chuck Patton and Rick Hoberg (pages 19-23)

Inker: Mike Machlan

Letterer: John Costanza

Colorist: Gene D'Angelo

Feature Characters

Superman (next chronological appearance in Superman #399)

Flash (next chronological appearance in The Flash #334)

Wonder Woman (leaves the Justice League, but retains status as a reserve member, together with Superman and Flash; next chronological appearance in DC Comics Presents #76)

Aquaman, J'onn J'onzz, Vixen, Steel, and Gypsy

Elongated Man (appears next in Red Tornado #3)

Zatanna and Vibe (both appear next in Blue Devil #13)

Supporting Characters

Sue Dibny (last seen in issue #237; appears next in The Flash #349)

Dale Gunn (appears next in issue #241)

Villains

General Mustapha Maksai (dies in this story) and his men (no further appearances to date)

Other Characters

Rosa Ramone (last seen in issue #234; appears next in issue #241)

Mother Windom (appears next in issue #244)

Arnie Papagaulos (last seen in issue #233; no further appearances to date)

The residents of Cameron Street (last seen in issue #233; appear next in issue #241)

Cameo Appearances

Batman, Green Lantern, Green Arrow, Hawkman, Black Canary, Firestorm, Despero, Starro, and Amazo Anansi the Spider and his son

Comment

Following this story, the former Justice League members confront the Red Tornado in Red Tornado #1 and battle the Construct in Red Tornado #3.

Also following this story, Zatanna teams up with Green Lantern John Stewart to battle a demon-controlled Blue Devil in Blue Devil #13.

The entry for New Teen Titans (second series) #6 in The Official Teen Titans Index #5 is incorrect. It should list Aquaman as appearing in between Justice League of America #136 and #137.

The entry for Shadow War of Hawkman #3 in The Official Hawkman Index #2 is also incorrect. It should list Aquaman's last appearance as Justice League of America #239 and Elongated Man's last appearance as The Flash #349. Thus, following this story, Elongated Man appears in Red Tornado #3, then in The Flash #349, then in Shadow War of Hawkman #3.

Synopsis

Superman, Flash, and Wonder Woman are informed that their "short" trip to parallel worlds actually took three weeks, and that in that time the Justice League has been disbanded and reformed. After Aquaman explains his reasons for doing so, the trio accepts his judgment; they agree to leave, wishing the new team good luck. J'onn J'onzz theorizes that their time paradox is due to an ongoing space-time continuum disturbance (later revealed as the Crisis on Infinite Earths), and the Flash invites his friends to use his Cosmic Treadmill to return to the true elapsed time to avoid further time problems.

In the meantime, Rosa Ramone appears to tell the League that General Maksai has kidnapped Mother Windom, threatening to kill her unless they turn over Vixen. Vixen is prevented from leaving immediately by Aquaman's telepathic powers. In the ensuing controversy, she gets away anyway.

Vixen arrives at the rendezvous point, an abandoned theatre, and learns that the General has always wanted her Tantu Totem for himself, believing that he is descended from the legendary Tantu (who had received it from Anansi the Spider to protect the innocent from Man's fury with the power of beasts). To save Mother Windom, she gives it to Maksai, who immediately turns into his namesake, the Ox, and his bloodlust makes him ravage his own men. Then he turns on the helpless Mother Windom and Vixen. At last, Vixen is able to grab the totem from him, then knock him off the theatre stage onto a pile of glass debris, upon which he is impaled.

Justice League of America #240

July 1985

Cover Credits

Artists: Chuck Patton (penciler) and Mike Machlan (inker; Signed)

Letterer: Gaspar Saladino

STORY

"The Future Ain't What It Used to Be" (23 Pages)

Credits

Editor: Alan Gold

Plotter, scripter: Kurt Busiek

Penciler: Mike Sekowsky

Inker: Tom Mandrake

Letterer: Helen Vesik

Colorist: Gene D'Angelo

Special Credit to: Richard Howell (co-creator of Dr. Anomaly)

Feature Characters

Superman, Batman, Flash, Wonder Woman, Aquaman, Green Lantern, Atom, and Hawkman

Villains

Dr. Anomaly (Dr. Phineas Quayle; first and only appearance to date; a physicist)

Potter (first and only appearance to date; a burglar)

Guest Appearances

Lois Lane (last chronological appearance in Superman's Girl Friend Lois Lane #83; next chronological appearance in Superman #208)

Jimmy Olsen (last chronological appearance in World's Finest Comics #176; next chronological appearance in Superman #208)

Lana Lang (last chronological appearance in Superman's Girl Friend Lois Lane #80; next chronological appearance in Action Comics #365)

Other Characters

Fred and Daphne (first and only appearance to date; S.T.A.R. Labs scientists in the Temporal Research Division)

The Mayor of Metropolis (last chronological appearance of a mayor of Metropolis in Superman's Girl Friend Lois Lane #73; next chronological appearance of a mayor of Metropolis in Superman #244)

Cameo Appearances

Green Arrow, J'onn J'onzz, the Metal Men (Gold, Iron, Lead, Mercury, and Tin), the Teen Titans (Robin, Kid Flash, and Wonder Girl), Robotman, and Elasti-Girl

The Royal Flush Gang (in flashback to issue #54)

The Key and his Key-Men (in flashback to issue #63)

John F. Kennedy, Jacqueline Kennedy, Richard Nixon, Secret Service agents, police officers, and protestors (on Dr. Anomaly's viewscreen)

Comments

This is an Untold Story from the JLA Casebook and takes place, in part, following the story in issue #63, and preceding the appearance of the Justice League in Action Comics #365-366.

Happy Harbor, home of Snapper Carr and the city nearest the original Secret Sanctuary, is revealed to be in Rhode Island in this story.

Flash's comment about his plans to reveal his secret identity to his wife is an editorial error, since he had already done so by the time of this story.

This story is no longer part of the official history of the DC universe, following the events of Crisis on Infinite Earths.

Synopsis

S.T.A.R. lab scientists observing the time stream discover a figure caught in it, and decide to trace his life's timeline. They discover that he is physicist Phineas Quayle, who tried to find the solution to the Great Depression by building a time machine. He did so, but his glimpses of the future discouraged him greatly.

He decided that most of the world's future ills will have been caused by the plethora of super-heroes, whom he believes have destroyed the self-esteem of ordinary individuals. He cannot return to his own time, so he creates devices which can cause temporal anomalies in small areas, and feeling it his patriotic duty, creates the identity of Dr. Anomaly to try to stop the super-heroes.

He observes the Justice League's latest case (the battle with the Key in issue #63), and identifying his most dangerous enemies, he then converts Superman, Aquaman, Hawkman, and Batman to pure energy, storing them in jars. Then he interrupts the team's monthly meeting, and battles the Flash, Green Lantern, Wonder Woman, and the Atom. He has some initial success, but Superman manages to topple his jar from the shelf, and the resulting explosion distracts Anomaly long enough for the reconstituted heroes to join forces to defeat him, so he flees back into the time stream.

Suddenly, Dr. Anomaly emerges in the S.T.A.R. lab, freed from his trap by the scientists' observation. When he disappears again, five minutes are gone from the scientists' lives.

Justice League of America #241

August 1985

Cover Credits

Artists: Chuck Patton (penciler) and Romeo Tanghal (inker; Signed)

Letterer: Gaspar Saladino

STORY

"Sea Change" (23 Pages)

Credits

Editor: Alan Gold

Plotter, scripter: Gerry Conway

Penciler: George Tuska

Inker: Mike Machlan

Letterer: Helen Vesik

Colorist: Gene D'Angelo

Feature Characters

Aquaman, J'onn J'onzz, Elongated Man, Vixen, Steel, and Gypsy

Zatanna (last seen in Blue Devil #13)

Vibe (last seen in Blue Devil #13; gets new costume)

Supporting Characters

Sue Dibny (last seen in The Flash #349)

Dale Gunn (last seen in issue #239)

Villains

Amazo (last seen in Superman Special #3)

"Slick" Jake MacGregor (first and only appearance to date; a former prospector and drunken derelict of St. Jude, Yukon Territory; absorbed by Amazo in this story)

Other Characters

Constable Mal Parkins (first appearance; an R.C.M.P. officer of St. Jude; dies in this story)

Rosa Ramone (last seen in issue #239; appears next in issue #244)

Charles Croom (last seen in Justice League of America

Annual #2; mistakenly colored as a Caucasian in this story; appears next in issue #244; see fourth Comment below)

The residents of Cameron Street (last seen in issue #239; appear next in issue #244)

Two unnamed citizens of New Venice, Florida (first and only appearance to date)

Cameo Appearance

Superman (in flashback to Superman Special #3)

Comments

Vibe is mistakenly depicted in his old costume on the cover of this issue.

Aquaman and Mera are revealed to have been married for seven years in this story.

It is incorrectly stated that J'onn J'onzz has been on Earth for thirty years in this story.

Charles Croom's appearance in this story was mistakenly overlooked in Justice League of America Index #7. His entry for Justice League of America Annual #2 should give his next appearance as Justice League of America #241, not #244.

The story continues in the next issue.

Synopsis

Amazo escapes from Superman's Arctic Fortress of Solitude, and appears in the Yukon town of St. Jude, where he absorbs the being and personality of a bitter former prospector named "Slick" Jake MacGregor. The man's hatred for the town, whose inhabitants he holds responsible for his lack of success, causes him to use his new powers to wipe out all but six of its people.

Meanwhile, Aquaman has left Detroit to find Mera, while Hank finally asks Paco if he can date his sister. Vibe adopts a new costume, and J'onn J'onzz brings news of Amazo's northern rampage, whereupon the team departs for the Yukon timberland to seek out the android menace.

The Martian Manhunter takes charge in Aquaman's absence and sends the team searching in different directions. He and Dale Gunn are then the first to be attacked by Amazo.

Justice League of America #242

September 1985

Cover Credits

Artists: Chuck Patton (penciler) and Mike Machlan (inker; Signed)

Letterer: Gaspar Saladino

FIRST STORY

"Battle Cry" (23 Pages)

Credits

Editor: Alan Gold

Plotter, scripter: Gerry Conway

Penciler: George Tuska

Inker: Mike Machlan

Letterer: Helen Vesik

Colorist: Gene D'Angelo

Feature Characters

Aquaman, J'onn J'onzz, Elongated Man, Zatanna, Vixen, Steel, Vibe, and Gypsy

Guest Star

Mera (last seen in Shadow War of Hawkman #3)

Supporting Character

Dale Gunn

Villain

Amazo

Comments

The formerly snow-covered landscape is mistakenly depicted as free of snow in this story, and Gypsy is mistakenly depicted as continuing to go barefoot after arriving in the Yukon.

The story continues in the next issue.

Synopsis

Unaware that Amazo has put J'onzz and Gunn out of action, Elongated Man and Gypsy are caught by surprise as well. Zatanna sees the attack by means of a spell, and she and Steel follow the Justice League signal to their teammates, as do Vixen and Vibe. Dale Gunn revives J'onn J'onzz, who deduces a means to defeat Amazo, and he and Dale journey to Superman's Fortress.

Amazo defeats the four who have come to Ralph and Gypsy's aid, and places them in a deep pit, which he seals with a huge boulder.

Meanwhile, Aquaman and Mera are reunited in the ocean depths.

SECOND STORY

"Assault on Mount Mayhem" (14 Pages plus cover splash)

Credits

Editor: Andrew Helfer

Plotter, scripter: Michael Fleisher

Penciler: Mike Chen

Inker: Joe Delbeato

Letterer: Tim Harkins

Colorist: Gene D'Angelo

Feature Characters

Matthew Matt" Trakker (formal first name revealed in Mask #2; first appearance; a racing-car driver; wears the Spectrum mask; appears next in Mask #1) and Thunderhawk (his vehicle; appears next in Mask #1)

Dusty Hayes (first appearance; a restaurateur; wears the Blacklash mask)

Brad "Chopper" Turner (first appearance; a rock musician; wears the Hocus Pocus mask) and Condor (his vehicle)

Bruce Sato (first appearance; a toy designer; wears the Lifter mask; appears next in Mask #2)

Hondo MacLean (first appearance; a high school history teacher, as revealed in his next appearance in Mask #2; wears the Blaster mask)

Alex Sector (first appearance; wears the Jackrabbit mask; appears next in Mask #1)

Buddy Hawkes (first appearance; wears the Penetrator mask; appears next in Mask #1; the above seven characters are members of the Mask team; acronym stands for Mobile Armored Strike Kommand)

Supporting Characters

Duane Kennedy (first appearance; liaison between MASK and the PNA; acronym stands for Peaceful Nations Alliance; appears next in Mask #1)

Scott Trakker (first appearance; Matt Trakker's adopted son; appears next in Mask #1)

T-Bob (first appearance; Scott's robot companion; appears next in Mask #1)

Villains

Miles Mayhem (first appearance; leader of VENOM; acronym stands for Vicious Evil Network of Mayhem; the mercenary arm of Contra-World, an international criminal organization; appears next in Mask #1)

Cliff Dagger and Sly Rax (first appearance of both; Miles Mayhem's henchmen; both appear next in Mask #1)

Other Characters

Matt Trakker's pit crew (first and only appearance to date; Dave named in this story)

An unnamed waitress at Homestyle Pizza (Dusty Hayes's restaurant; first and only appearance to date)

Brad Turner's fans (first and only appearance to date; Stevie named in this story)

Scott Trakker's history class and other tourists at Mount Rushmore Memorial (first and only appearance of all to date)

Comment

This is a MASK story — a special insert between pages 13 and 14 of the regular Justice League of America story intended as a preview of the new comic title, Mask. This insert is included in many of the DC comics published this month.

Synopsis

In this special story of MASK, Duane Kennedy of the Peaceful Nations Alliance alerts Matt Trakker to the theft of a prototype molecular-dissassembler projector device by VENOM. Matt assembles his team of MASK agents, each of whom gains special abilities from an energy-charged helmet and pilots a powerful robot vehicle.

The team's communications are disrupted by Miles Mayhem, leader of VENOM, who has taken hostage a group of tourists at Mount Rushmore, including Matt Trakker's adopted son, Scott. Mayhem demands Trakker's surrender in return for the continued existence of the national monument and the tourists.

Matt and fellow agent Bruce Sato pretend to give themselves up as a diversion, while the other MASK members engage Mayhem's henchmen in a surprise attack. His scheme foiled, Mayhem attempts to use the molecular-dissassembler to destroy Mount Rushmore, but actually only obliterates a holographic projection of the monument generated by MASK agent Brad Turner.

Justice League of America #243

October 1985

Cover Credits

Artists: Chuck Patton (penciler) and Mike Machlan (inker; (Signed)

Letterer: Gaspar Saladino

STORY

"Storm Cloud" (23 Pages)

Credits

Editor: Alan Gold

Plotter, scripter: Gerry Conway

Penciler: George Tuska

Inker: Mike Machlan

Letterer: Albert De Guzman

Colorist: Gene D'Angelo

Feature Characters

Aquaman (quits the Justice League; appears next in Crisis on Infinite Earths #5)

J'onn J'onnz (disguised as "Slick" Jake MacGregor in this story)

Elongated Man, Zatanna, Vixen, Steel, Vibe, and Gypsy

Guest Stars

Mera (appears next in Crisis on Infinite Earths #9)

Commander Steel (last seen, as Hank Heywood, in issue #237; appears next in Infinity, Inc #19)

Supporting Character

Dale Gunn

Villain

Amazo (no further appearances to date)

Other Characters

Duncan Stevens (first appearance; a truck driver; dies in this story)

An unnamed R.C.M.P. constable (first and only appearance to date)

An unnamed military aide of Hank Heywood I (first and only appearance to date)

Unnamed rescue workers (first and only appearance to date)

Cameo Appearances

Jor-El and Lara (as statues)

"Slick" Jake MacGregor

Comment

This story continues in part in Infinity, Inc. #19.

Synopsis

Aquaman and Mera arrive at the bunker headquarters to discover their friends gone and a map of Canada their only clue to the team's whereabouts.

As Vixen overcomes her claustrophobia to help her teammates escape the pit trap, J'onn J'onzz and Dale Gunn visit Superman's Fortress of Solitude and find that a meteor was responsible for freeing the android.

Aquaman and Mera find the now-freed members and administer first aid aboard the L.O.S.T. while they trail Amazo toward Vancouver. J'onzz and Gunn head for St. Jude to discover who Amazo had absorbed in order to determine his motivation, and thus they learn of Jake MacGregor's vendetta against those whom he felt had cheated him.

In Vancouver, Aquaman and Vixen attack the android, but neither can resist all the powers of the original Justice League members at once. Steel prevents Amazo from killing them. Amazo is then suddenly confronted by himself in the form of Jake MacGregor, who is actually J'onn J'onzz in disguise. The android's confusion allows Aquaman to defeat him, and Amazo shuts down once again.

Aquaman has decided that his marriage is more important to him than the Justice League, and offers his resignation. Meanwhile, Steel's grandfather Hank Heywood, having discovered that Dale Gunn has changed the locks on the Bunker, and feeling that the new Justice League is not a fit group for his grandson, decides to come out of retirement as Commander Steel to change the situation.

Justice League of America #244

November 1985

Cover Credits

Artists: Joe Staton (penciler) and Mike Machlan (inker; (Signed)

Letterer: Gaspar Saladino

STORY

"The Final Crisis" (23 Pages)

Credits

Editors: Alan Gold and Roy Thomas (editorial consultant)
Plotter, scripter: Gerry Conway

Penciler: Joe Staton

Inker: Mike Machlan

Letterer: Albert De Guzman

Colorist: Gene D'Angelo

Feature Characters

J'onn J'onzz, Elongated Man, and Zatanna (all last seen in Infinity, Inc. #19; all appear next in Detective Comics #557)

Vixen (appears next in Crisis on Infinite Earths #8)

Steel, Vibe, and Gypsy (all appear next in Crisis on Infinite Earths #5)

Guest Stars

Dr. Fate, Flash of Earth-2, Wonder Woman of Earth-2, and Hawkman of Earth-2 (all last seen in Infinity, Inc. #19; all appear next in Infinity, Inc. Annual #1)

Dr. Mid-Nite (last seen, as Charles McNider, in Infinity, Inc. #19; teamed with the above four characters as the Justice Society of America; appears next in Infinity, Inc. #20)

Silver Scarab, Fury, Nuklon, Jade, and Northwind (all last seen in Infinity, Inc. #19; teamed as Infinity, Inc.; all appear next in Infinity, Inc. #20)

Supporting Characters

Sue Dibny (last seen in issue #241; appears next in Justice League of America Annual #3)

Dale Gunn (appears next in Justice League of America Annual #3)

Villains

Commander Steel (last seen in Infinity, Inc. #19; turns against the Justice League in this story and is thus listed as a villain)

Mekanique (last chronological appearance in All-Star Squadron #60)

Other Characters

Rosa Ramone (last seen in issue #241; appears next in issue #246)

Mother Windom (last seen in issue #239; no further appearances to date)

Charles Croom (last seen in issue #241; no further appearances to date)

Mrs. Ramone (last seen in Justice League of America Annual #2; appears next in issue #246)

The residents of Cameron Street (last seen in issue #241; no further appearances to date)

Comments

The story continues from Infinity, Inc. #19 and continues in part in Infinity, Inc. #20 and Crisis on Infinite Earths #4-5.

The Justice Society of America was last seen in Infinity, Inc. #19 and appears next in Infinity, Inc. Annual #1.

Following this story, the Justice League confers with Robin about the strange weather conditions in Detective Comics #557 before being teleported to the Monitor's satellite in Crisis on Infinite Earths #5.

Synopsis

Commander Steel has activated the long-dormant Mekanique, and utilizing the mechanism's ability to traverse dimensions, travels to Earth-2 and enlists Infinity, Inc. to battle the new Justice League, taking advantage of their ignorance of the recent turnover in JLA membership. Meanwhile, the red skies of the Crisis begin to appear on both Earths. The Infinity team quickly overcomes the new League at their Detroit headquarters, but J'onn J'onzz is able to ferry his unconscious comrades away, and the Infinitors, still not sure that they are fighting villains, follow.

The Justice League members are recovering in the shell of their former satellite headquarters, while Infinity searches the Bunker for clues to their location, and again suspects that their adversaries may not be villainous, especially when they discover Steel on his grandfather's operating table, being tortured by Mekanique. In the satellite, Zatanna recharges the vehicle's power supply, so that the team can travel to Earth-2 via the Trans-Matter machine to enlist the help of the Justice Society.

Commander Steel candidly admits that he has used Infinity for his own ends, and Mekanique renders them all unconscious, just as the Justice League and Justice Society arrive at the Bunker. The elder Heywood reveals that he had created his grandson's Steel identity to make up for the loss of his own son in Viet Nam, a death he blamed on his son's mortal weakness.

The Justice Society overhears this confession and attacks, battling Mekanique, while Commander Steel tries to get to Hank. As he and Steel square off, the robot disappears, and Dr. Fate senses the growing storms of the Crisis. The combined Earth-1 and Earth-2 teams go outside to help the people of Detroit, while Steel decisively defeats his grandfather.

Justice League of America Annual #3 1985

Cover Credits

Artists: Paris Cullins (penciler) and Mike Machlan (inker; Signed)
Letterer: None

STORY

"Force of Nature" (41 Pages)

Credits

Editor: Alan Gold
Plotter, scripter: Dan Mishkin
Penciler: Rick Hoberg
Inker: Mike Gustovich
Letterer: John Costanza
Colorist: Gene D'Angelo

Feature Characters

J'onn J'onzz (in between Crisis on Infinite Earths #8 and #9)

Elongated Man (in between Crisis on Infinite Earths #5 and #10)

Zatanna, Vibe, and Gypsy (all in between Crisis on Infinite Earths #5 and #9)

Vixen (in between Crisis on Infinite Earths #8 and #10)

Steel (in between Crisis on Infinite Earths #7 and #9)

Guest Stars

Superman (in between Superman #414 and #415)

Batman and Black Canary (both in between Crisis on Infinite Earths #7 and #9)

Green Arrow and Geo-Force (both in between Crisis on Infinite Earths #5 and #9)

Red Tornado (last seen in Crisis on Infinite Earths #8; destroyed and becomes a force of nature in this story; no further appearances to date)

Firestorm (in between Crisis on Infinite Earths #8 and #9)

Black Lightning (in between Crisis on Infinite Earths #5 and #10)

Supporting Characters

Kathy Sutton (last seen in Red Tornado #4)

Sue Dibny (in between Justice League of America #244 and #245)

Dale Gunn (last seen in Justice League of America #244; appears next in Crisis on Infinite Earths #9)

Other Characters

Dr. Sarti (first and only appearance to date; a S.T.A.R. scientist)

Unnamed power station employees (first and only appearance to date)

Comments

This story takes place during the events shown in Crisis on Infinite Earths #8.

There is no villain in this story, as the JLA combats the effects of the Crisis on Infinite Earths and the transformed Red Tornado.

Red Tornado is mistakenly shown overloading the circuits of the Justice League satellite, causing it to explode, in this story. Actually, Red Tornado's android body, booby-trapped by the Anti-Monitor, causes the explosion, as seen in Crisis on Infinite Earths #8. Also, Red Tornado is not alone in the satellite when it explodes, as shown here, and the depiction of the events immediately preceding the explosion may be the equivalent of a dream on Red Tornado's part. With him aboard the satellite are J'onn J'onzz, Vixen, Atom, Cyborg, Blue Devil, Green Lantern (John Stewart), T. O. Morrow, Firehawk, and Firestorm, who is mistakenly depicted as being on the surface in this story.

Synopsis

Red Tornado is on board the Justice League satellite when he suddenly explodes. Below, Firestorm, Green Arrow, and Black Canary attempt to ensure that the falling pieces of the headquarters don't kill residents of Detroit and Lansing, as do Martian Manhunter, Steel, and Vibe, and thus the members of the old and new Justice Leagues meet for the first time. The six manage to find only fragments of their former teammate, and conclude that Red Tornado is dead. However, in New York, the android's girlfriend, Kathy Sutton, receives a message over her TV to meet Red Tornado in Gotham City.

At S.T.A.R. Labs on the west coast, Zatanna and Elongated Man are told that three weather satellites, meant to control the weather, are now in some unknown manner creating tornadoes, blizzards, and earthquakes around the world, including nearby San Francisco. Elongated Man contacts the others in Detroit, just as Firestorm is revealing the link between the Red Tornado and the Tornado Tyrant/Champion (as shown in Justice League of America #193), and the team heads in all directions to help.

Zatanna and Elongated Man are sucked up into a space warp; J'onn J'onzz, Vibe, Dale Gunn, Vixen, and Gypsy save a hydroelectric plant and its employees; Firestorm, Green Arrow, and Black Canary go to Gotham City to meet Kathy Sutton at a bridge being saved by Batman, Geo-Force, and Black Lightning; and Superman discovers that the space warp causing the weather anomalies is definitely guided by intelligence. He and J'onn J'onzz set off to destroy the satellites, while the others are drawn up into the warp, after which all of the members of the Justice League, past and present, appear through the warp at the dam.

A vortex appears above them, and when the last satellite is smashed, it speaks to them, and assumes a transparent human appearance, revealing itself to be the essence of the Red Tornado. He has survived by interfacing with the weather satellites, but he is now a force of nature, and sees mankind as nature's enemy. Despite the members' efforts, including producing the physical remnants of his body, the Red Tornado does not change back. Although Kathy convinces him to take human form again, the Justice League attacks, attempting to seal him in a metal cage, but he again escapes, vowing to come to a decision about his new role in the world.

Justice League of America #245

December 1985

Cover Credits

Artists: Luke McDonnell (penciler) and Bill Wray (inker; Signed)

Letterer: Gaspar Saladino

STORY

"The Long Road Home" (23 Pages)

Credits

Editor: Andrew Helfer

Plotter, scripter: Gerry Conway

Penciler: Luke McDonnell

Inker: Mike Machlan

Letterer: Albert De Guzman

Colorist: Gene D'Angelo

Feature Characters

J'onn J'onzz and Vixen (both in between Crisis on Infinite Earths #10 and #12)

Elongated Man (in between Crisis on Infinite Earths #10 and #11)

Zatanna (in between Crisis on Infinite Earths #9 and #11)

Steel (in between Crisis on Infinite Earths #9 and #12)

Vibe and Gypsy (both last seen in Crisis on Infinite Earths #9)

Guest Star

Hank Heywood I (also appears in flashback as Commander Steel)

Supporting Characters

Sue Dibny (last seen in Justice League of America Annual #3)

Dale Gunn (last seen in Crisis on Infinite Earths #10)

Villains

The Lord of Time (last seen in Crisis on Infinite Earths #10; see Comment below; also called the Progenitor in this story; no further appearances to date)

The Six (first and only appearance to date; the six cloned "sons" of the Lord of Time; all removed from existence by the Lord of Time in this story)

Giant insects (first and only appearance to date; creations of the Six)

Killer robots (first and only appearance to date)

Other Character

Olanda (first and only appearance to date; daughter of the Lord of Time; see third Comment below)

Cameo Appearances

Northwind, Fury, Nuklon, and Silver Scarab (in flashback to issue #244)

Comments

This story occurs simultaneously with the events in Crisis on Infinite Earths #9-10, and in between Crisis on Infinite Earths #10 and #11.

Following this story, Elongated Man and Zatanna represent the Justice League at the meeting in Titans Tower in Crisis on Infinite Earths #11. Steel then returns from the future in time to join his fellow members in the final assault on the Anti-Monitor's forces in Crisis on Infinite Earths #12.

The Official Crisis on Infinite Earths Crossover Index #1 mistakenly refers to this story as having occurred after the Crisis. Actually, the Lord of Time makes his last chronological appearance in the pre-Crisis universe in this story as an old man. Previously, however, he appeared in Crisis on Infinite Earths #10 as a younger man and helped change history by sending the heroes back to the dawn of time. Thus, the future world of this story has been erased from existence.

Since cloning only produces identical twins of the same sex, Olanda must have been produced by the Lord of Time using some other method, and cannot be a true clone as stated in this story.

Synopsis

In the midst of a battle with various super-villains (as seen in Crisis on Infinite Earths #9), Warp, a member of the Brotherhood of Evil, sends Steel through time into the far future, where he is immediately attacked by giant insects and killer robots. He is helped to safety by a woman named Olanda, who explains that he is now in the year 1,000,000,000 A.D., and that his attackers are directed by someone called the Six. She mistrusts him when he tells her that he is part of the Justice League.

The Six are her brothers, and they are out to kill their father with his own main weapon, the Chrono-Cube. Her father then reveals himself as the Lord of Time, now very old. He tells Steel that he had come to this far future as a refugee. He had cloned himself to create his seven children, but had also created resentment by favoring Olanda. The six sons rebelled against him, stole his Chrono-Cube, amassed Killer-bots from the past, and attacked him.

The Six, meanwhile, are slowed by having to reach a consensus on everything, and Steel attacks them and their robots, allowing the Lord of Time and Olanda to reach the Cube. In the blink of an eye, all around him disappears, and Steel watches the Cube reappear. The Lord of Time has gone back in time and prevented his younger self from creating his "sons." Olanda, however, still lives, and before returning to his own time, Steel asks for some time alone with her.

Justice League of America #246

January 1986

Cover Credits

Artists: Luke McDonnell (penciler) and Bill Wray (inker)
Letterer: Gaspar Saladino

STORY

"Be It Ever So Humble . . ." (22 Pages)

Credits

Editor: Andrew Helfer
Plotter, scripter: Gerry Conway
Penciler: Luke McDonnell
Inker: Bill Wray
Letterer: David Cody Weiss
Colorist: Gene D'Angelo

Feature Characters

J'onn J'onzz, Elongated Man, Vixen, and Steel (gets new costume; all last seen in Crisis on Infinite Earths #12)

Zatanna (last seen in Crisis on Infinite Earths #12; appears next in Swamp Thing #49; see third Comment below)

Vibe (last seen in Crisis on Infinite Earths #9)

Gypsy (last seen in Crisis on Infinite Earths #10)

Guest Star

Hank Heywood I (appears next in issue #260)

Supporting Characters

Sue Dibny (appears next in issue #249)

Dale Gunn (appears next in issue #261)

Villains

An unnamed street gang (first and only appearance to date)

Other Characters

Mr. Ramone, two of his sons, and two of his daughters (all last seen in Justice League of America Annual #2; no further appearances to date)

Mrs. Ramone and Rosa Ramone (both last seen in issue #244; no further appearances to date)

Burt Biloxi (first appearance; owner of Biloxi's Special Investigations, a detective agency)

Lou Aronica (last name revealed in next issue; character named for the science fiction book editor; first appearance; a casting director)

Hank Polaski (first appearance; director of the Workplace gymnasium)

An unnamed doorman and management company representative of Sutton Place Apartments (first and only appearance of both to date)

Unnamed New York City police officers (first and only appearance to date)

Cameo Appearances

Sheri Stanley (Zatanna's roommate; as a photograph)

Lord of Time, Olanda, and killer robots (in flashback to previous issue)

Comments

This story occurs following the reordering of the universe shown in Crisis on Infinite Earths #11-12. Changes in known history shown in this story include J'onn J'onzz having worked for the Metropolis, rather than Middletown, Police Department, his having come to Earth and assumed his John Jones identity longer ago than previously established, and his John Jones identity never having been believed to be dead.

Following this story, Zatanna helps John Constantine gather together a group of mystics in Swamp Thing #49-50. Her father Zatara dies as a result of that adventure, and Zatanna resumes her stage magician's act in an effort to get over her loss, appearing in Hawkman (second series) #4, in which she helps Hawkman and Hawkwoman defeat the Kite-Man, and in Zatanna Special #1, in which she again encounters her mother's race, the Hidden Ones.

Synopsis

Despite his remorse for what he has done to Steel, the elder Hank Heywood evicts the Justice League from the Bunker, something Steel refuses to accept. He breaks in and confronts his grandfather, who apologizes for trying to live his life through him. Heywood tells his grandson that the break with his influence must be total. Steel reconciles with him, and the Justice League bids Detroit farewell.

Since Vixen and Zatanna have apartments in New York City, the team heads there, and new lives are begun. Elongated Man and Sue move into her cousin's house in Westchester, J'onn J'onzz revives his John Jones identity to rejoin the police force, and Steel and Vibe look for apartments and employment on their own.

John Jones is rejected for being past the retirement age according to the police computer, but a private detective named Burt Biloxi invites him to join his agency, and John accepts. Hank gets a job instructing weight-lifting at the Workplace, a body-building gym. Zatanna returns to her sublet apartment to learn that her roommate is nowhere to be found. Paco discovers that rent is very high in New York.

Justice League of America #247

February 1986

Cover Credits

Artists: Luke McDonnell (penciler) and Bill Wray (inker)

Letterer: Gaspar Saladino

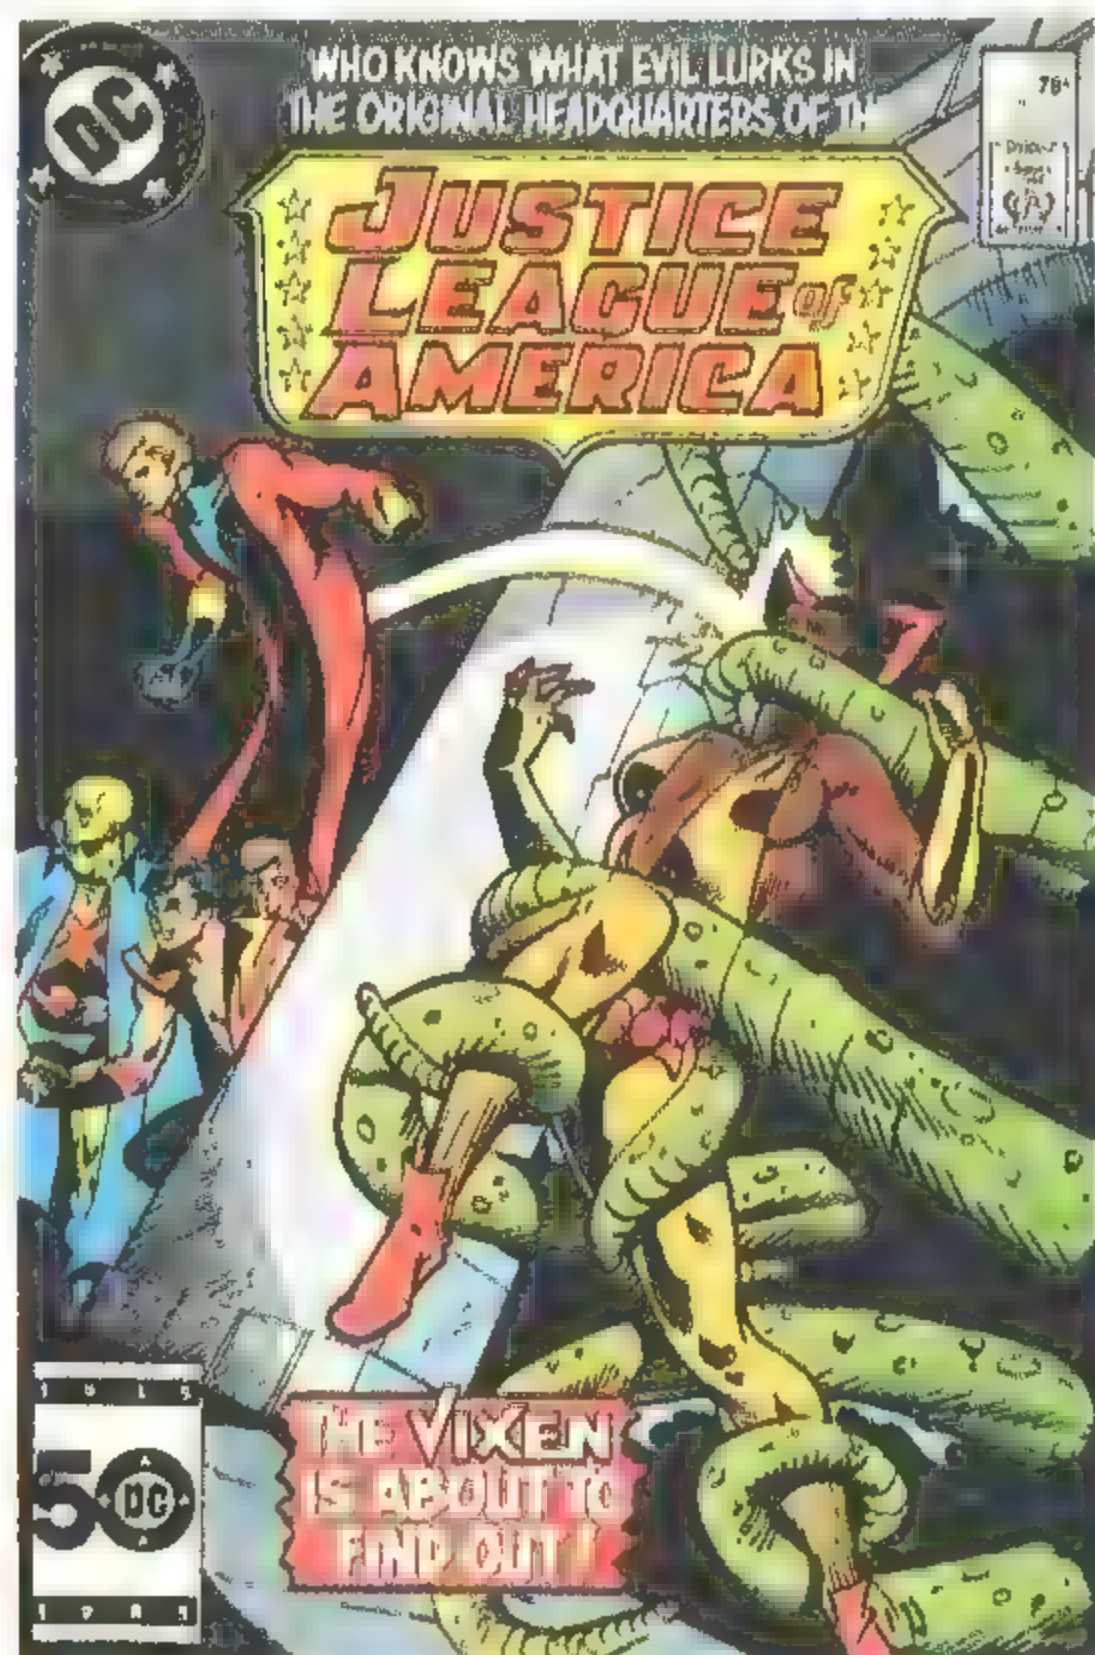

STORY

"... There's No Place Like Home" (22 Pages)

Credits

Editor: Andrew Helfer

Plotter, scripter: Gerry Conway

Penciler: Luke McDonnell
Inker: Bill Wray
Letterer: Keith Hathaway
Colorist: Gene D'Angelo

Feature Characters

J'onn J'onzz, Elongated Man, Vixen, Steel, Vibe, and Gypsy

Zatanna (last chronological appearance in Zatanna Special #1)

Villains

"Junior" (named by Gypsy in next issue; first appearance; an alien being from planet Toris II)

Despero (last seen in Crisis on Infinite Earths #10)

Other Characters

Lou Aronica

Weightlifters at the Workshop (first and only appearance to date)

Three unnamed alien beings (first appearance; all die in this story)

An unnamed temporary-service receptionist (first and only appearance to date)

Cameo Appearance

Sheri Stanley (as a photograph)

Comments

In the post-Crisis world, the Secret Sanctuary, formerly outside Happy Harbor, Rhode Island, has always been located outside Metropolis.

J'onn J'onzz's name is misspelled J'onn J'onz in the blurb for next issue.

The story continues in the next issue.

Synopsis

Without their satellite or the Bunker, the Justice League decides to return to their cavern Secret Sanctuary, and find it a bit dusty, but in good condition, following its occupation by the Injustice Gang (in issue #158). Manhunter, Steel, Zatanna, and Vibe leave to deal with prior appointments, while Elongated Man, Vixen, and Gypsy are left to clean.

At the gym, Hank considers an offer to become a movie stuntman, while Zatanna searches for her roommate Sheri, and Vibe, a technophobe, is dismayed to discover that the Transporter Tubes used to travel to the satellite will be reconfigured to transport them to the Sanctuary.

In the headquarters, Gypsy discovers a family of opossums living in the shadows, while Vixen's senses lead her to another resident of the cavern, a huge amorphous alien creature, which covers her with a black aura and leaves her and Ralph unconscious. Gypsy eludes the creature, but when it threatens the opossums and she pushes it over easily, she senses that it is only a baby.

Meanwhile, a shadowy figure escapes from the prison planet Takron-Galtos, killing three guards in the process.

Justice League of America #248

March 1986

Cover Credits

Artists: Luke McDonnell (penciler) and Bill Wray (inker; Signed)

Letterer: Gaspar Saladino

STORY

"Interweavings" (22 Pages)

Credits

Editor: Andrew Helfer

Plotter, scripter: Gerry Conway

Penciler: Luke McDonnell
Inker: Bill Wray
Letterer: John Costanza
Colorist: Gene D'Angelo

Feature Characters

J'onn J'onzz, Elongated Man, Zatanna, Vixen, Steel, Vibe, and Gypsy

Villains

Junior

Despero

Two extortionists (first and only appearance of both to date; Byron named in this story)

Other Characters

Two unnamed Brooklyn Heights policemen (first and only appearance to date)

Inhabitants of planet Kalanor (first appearance of inhabitants other than Despero, Jasonar, and Saranna)

Lou Aronica (no further appearances to date)

Mort (last name not revealed; a movie director), stuntmen, and crew of Magma Studios (first and only appearance of all to date)

Robin Flynn (first appearance; a script continuity girl for Magma Studios; appears next in issue #251)

Comment

The story continues in the next issue.

Synopsis

While Elongated Man, Vixen, and Gypsy discuss the alien, J'onn J'onzz is engaged in a stakeout as John Jones, waiting outside an apartment for a runaway named Pamela Cross. He hears a scream, dashes inside the building, and discovers a woman's body, the murder gun beside her. As he notes that she is not Cross, he picks up the gun, just as the police enter and arrest him. He escapes invisibly, taking the weapon with him.

Zatanna finds a pile of ashes in her apartment and fears that they may be the remains of her friend, before finding a note which leads her to the Westside Marina.

Vibe moves to a run-down apartment, and battles local protection extortionists. Steel loses his temper while working in the movie studio's barbarian film production, and loses his job but gains the phone number of the script-continuity girl.

Back at the Sanctuary, the alien being, which Gypsy dubs Junior, tries to run away when Vixen suggests taking tissue samples, but it is halted outside by the arrival of Martian Manhunter, Steel, and Vibe. The three are hit with its black aura before Steel knocks the creature unconscious. It appears that all is well, until Vixen staggers in, having been aged decades.

Out in space, the prison-escapee arrives on the planet Kalanor, where he is worshipped as a god.

Justice League of America #249

April 1986

Cover Credits

Artists: Luke McDonnell (penciler) and Bill Wray (inker; Signed)

Letterer: Gaspar Saladino

STORY

"All Fall Down" (22 Pages)

Credits

Editor: Andrew Helfer

Plotter, scripter: Gerry Conway

Penciler: Luke McDonnell

Inker: Bill Wray

Letterer: Albert De Guzman

Colorist: Gene D'Angelo

Feature Characters

J'onn J'onzz, Elongated Man, (gets new costume), Zatanna, Vixen, Steel, Vibe, Gypsy

Supporting Character

Sue Dibny (last seen in issue #246)

Villains

Junior

Despero and his followers on Kalanor

Other Characters

Mama LaRue (first and only appearance to date; a voodoo expert)

Two pedestrians in Greenwich Village (first and only appearance of both to date; Biff named in this story)

Cameo Appearances

Superman, Batman, Wonder Woman, Green Lantern, and inhabitants of planet Taurus II

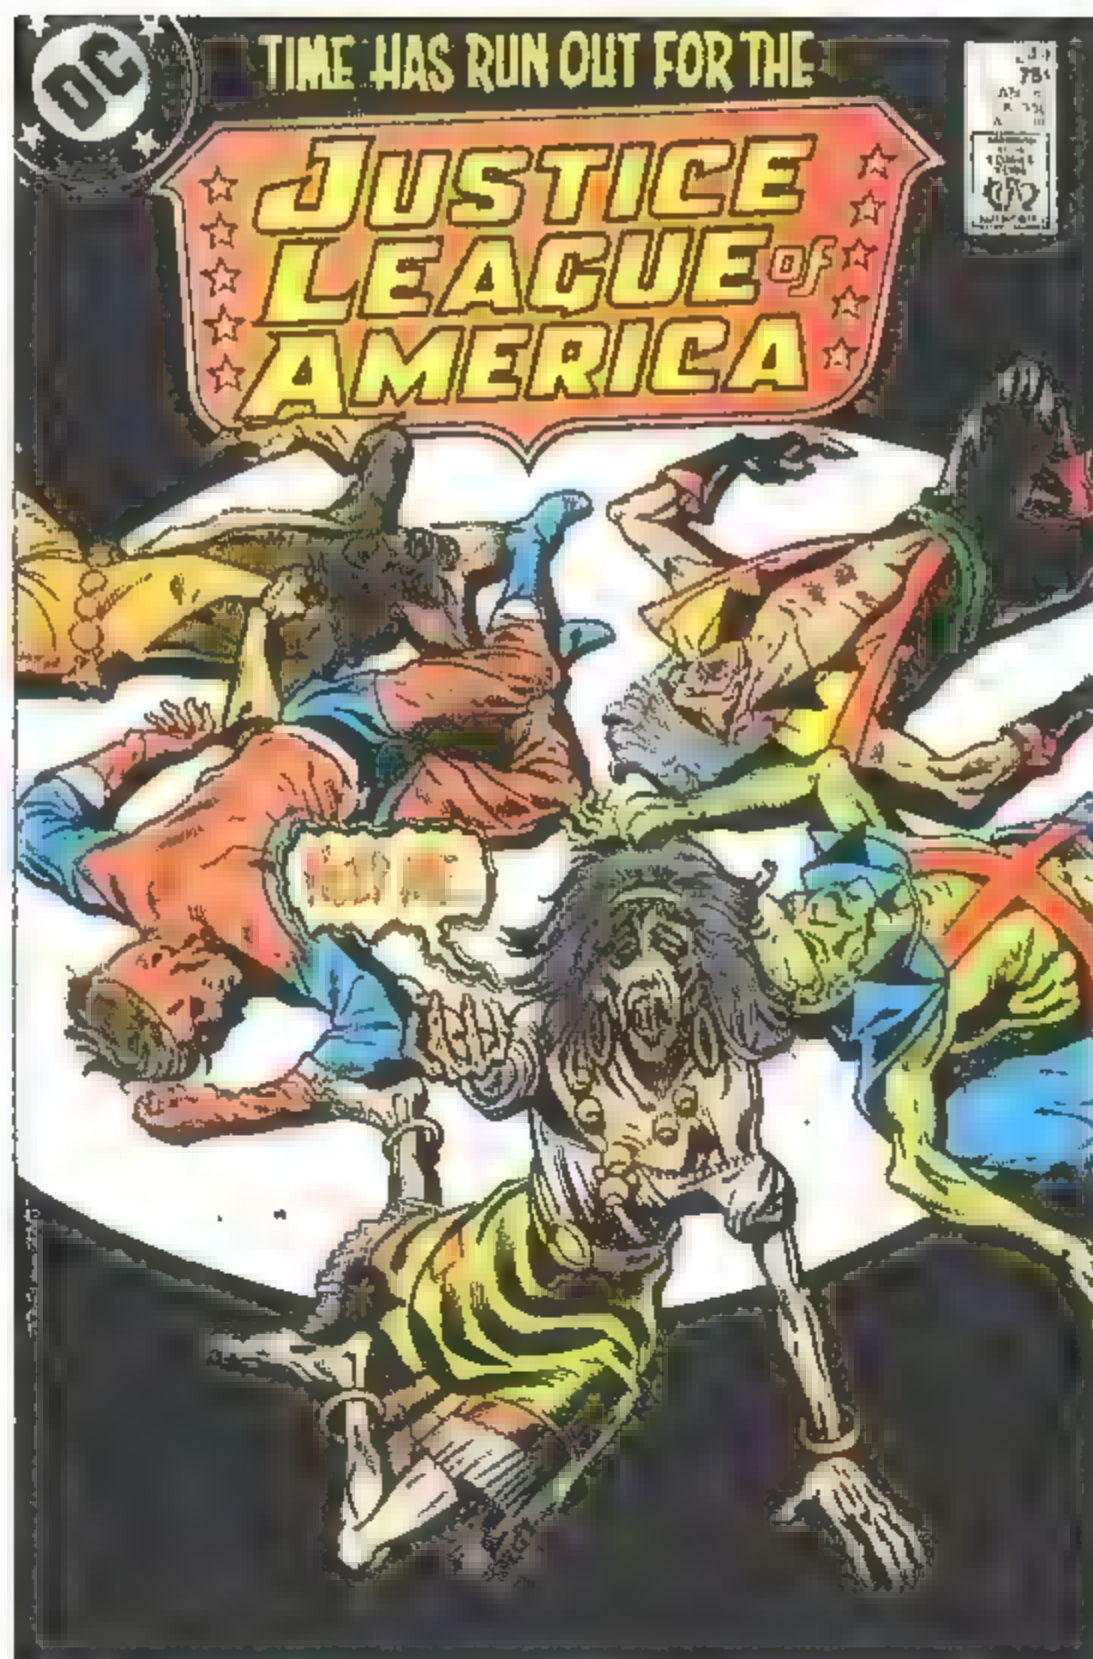

Comment

The story continues in the next issue.

Synopsis

Vixen is taken to sick bay, while Gypsy tries to bring Junior back inside the cavern. Steel objects and is again hit with the black aura, and Vibe's shockwave seals Gypsy and Junior outside with him, and Steel inside. As J'onn J'onzz examines Vixen, Elongated Man also shows signs of the aging effect, and the Martian Manhunter makes the connection between the aging and the alien.

In Greenwich Village, Zatanna visits a voodoo expert, and learns that the ashes are graveyard dust, not human remains. Sue Dibny drives to the Sanctuary to show her husband the new costume she had designed, and encounters Gypsy and the alien. Just then, Steel and Vibe find them and discover that Gypsy has begun to age horribly, too.

J'onn J'onzz analyzes a tissue sample from Junior, and the computer reveals that the alien was grown from a spore brought to the headquarters years before on Superman's cape, that it is a non-sentient form of plantlife, and it is and has been absorbing the lifeforms of animals in its vicinity. He begins to age just as he tries to trigger the League's emergency signal to alert all members, past and present. Vibe, Steel, and Sue enter with Gypsy, to find Ralph also near death; then Vibe and Steel are again attacked by Junior, and they too age. Sue watches the alien change to human form, and manages to trigger the alert before passing out.

On Kalanor, Despero enters the Flame of Py'tar to achieve supreme wisdom and power.

Justice League of America #250

May 1986

Cover Credits

Artists: Luke McDonnell (penciler) and Bill Wray (inker)

Letterer: Typography

STORY

"The Return of the Justice League of America" (38 Pages)

Credits

Editor: Andrew Helfer

Plotter, scripter: Gerry Conway

Penciler: Luke McDonnell

Inker: Bill Wray
Letterer: Albert De Guzman
Colorist: Gene D'Angelo

Feature Characters

Batman (rejoins the Justice League)
Jon J'onzz, Zatanna, Vixen, Steel, and Vibe
Elongated Man (appears next in DC Comics Presents #93)
Gypsy (real name, Cindy Reynolds, revealed in this story)

Guest Stars

Superman (last seen in Action Comics #578; appears next in DC Comics Presents #93; see Comment below)
Green Lantern (in between pages 3 and 7 of Green Lantern Corps #201)
Green Arrow and Black Canary (both last seen in Detective Comics #559; both appear next in the second story in Detective Comics #560)

Supporting Character

Sue Dibny (appears next in DC Comics Presents #93)

Villains

Junior (dies in this story)
Despero and his followers
Adam (first appearance; not to be confused with the character who appears in Superman Family #191-194)
A group of unnamed terrorists (first and only appearance to date)

Guest Appearances

Aquaman (appearance here same as Aquaman (second series) #2)
Atom (last seen in Crisis on Infinite Earths #10; no further appearances to date)
Hawkman and Hawkwoman (both in between Hawkman (second series) #4 and #5)

Other Characters

Unnamed Canadian firefighters (first and only appearance to date)

Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds and Evan Reynolds (their son; first appearance of all; Gypsy's family; all appear only in Gypsy's flashback/hallucination; all appear next in flashback in issue #255)

The Reynolds' neighbors (first and only appearance to date; Tommy named in this story; appear only in flashback/hallucination)

An unnamed sailor (first and only appearance to date)

Marlene Scott (first and only appearance to date; a follower of Adam)

Sheri Stanley (first physical appearance; revealed as a follower of Adam in this story)

Comments

Overwhelming evidence suggests that the reformation of history in the wake of Crisis on Infinite Earths occurred in two phases, not one. For example, characters such as Superman, Captain Marvel, and Captain Atom, who initially seemed not to have been affected, have since been significantly altered. Likewise, the members of Infinity, Inc., who initially remembered the Superman, Batman, and Wonder Woman of Earth-2, have since forgotten them. The second phase of the reformation apparently took place after Aphrodite (as seen in Legend of Wonder Woman #4) and Mekanique (as seen in All-Star Squadron #60) stopped holding back the full effects of the Crisis. Thus, Superman's last and next appearances are as listed above, since they were, for a short time, part of the post-Crisis universe.

The Injustice Gang is mistakenly referred to as the Injustice Society once by Batman in this story.

The story continues in part in the next issue.

Synopsis

The emergency alert broadcast from the old headquarters is on the frequency of the old members' signal devices, so it interrupts them unexpectedly while they are in the midst of other activities. Batman, Superman, Green Lantern, Green Arrow, and Black Canary are able to answer, although Aquaman, Atom, Hawkman, and Hawkwoman don't respond.

The quintet arrives at the Sanctuary, just as Gypsy comes out of a hallucination of her past life. She is actually Cindy Reynolds, the twelve-and-a-half-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds, and sister of younger Evan. Her hallucination counteracts the aging effect somehow. Her teammates are near death, and after she fills in the old members of the team, they split up to find the alien, with Gypsy and Black Canary remaining behind to take the stricken to the Medi-Lab.

Meanwhile, Zatanna goes to the marina and finally finds her roommate, only to learn that she is a follower of the cult leader Adam, and the sorceress is knocked unconscious.

Green Lantern is affected by the aging, as Superman and Batman learn Junior's origin and plan an attack against what they deduce is a telepathic vampire. Batman fills everyone in on his strategy, and Black Canary brings the alien into the open with her sonic power. Green Arrow decoys it to Batman, who feints, and the alien hurtles down an elevator shaft onto a grid of electrical cables, which sends a hundred thousand volts through it. The energy released by the dying creature is relayed through the wires and channeled by Superman into the Medi-Lab, where it revives the aged members.

Later, Batman, who has recently left the Outsiders, is invited to rejoin the Justice League as its chairman. He accepts, on a one-year provisional basis.

Meanwhile, Despero reveals his plan to destroy his old enemies, the Justice League, to his followers on Kalanor.

Justice League of America #251

June 1986

Cover Credits

Artists: Luke McDonnell (penciler) and Dick Giordano (inker; Signed)
Letterer: Gaspar Saladino

STORY

"Hunters and Prey" (22 Pages)

Credits

Editor: Andrew Helfer
Plotter, scripter: Gerry Conway
Penciler: Luke McDonnell
Inker: Bill Wray
Letterer: Albert De Guzman
Colorist: Gene D'Angelo

Feature Characters

Batman, J'onn J'onzz, Zatanna, Vixen, Steel, Vibe, and Gypsy

Villains

Despero
Adam and his followers, including Sheri Stanley

Other Characters

Burt Biloxi (last seen in issue #246; appears next in issue #255)

Norman Simons (first appearance; Burt Biloxi's secretary; name revealed in her next appearance in issue #255)

Robin Flynn (last seen in issue #248; no further appearances to date)

Shorty (last seen in issue #233; remodelled as of this story; no further appearances to date)

Comments

The Justice League satellite, destroyed and hurled out of orbit by an explosion in Crisis on Infinite Earths #8/ Justice League of America Annual #3, is back in orbit as a result of the restructuring of history following the Crisis, and is destroyed again by Despero in this story.

The Elongated Man, who is absent visiting Metropolis in DC Comics Presents #93, does not appear in this story and is mistakenly depicted on the cover.

Martians are revealed not to have fingerprints in this story. The story continues in the next issue.

Synopsis

When the Batman derides him in the training room, Vibe stalks out. Manhunter examines the murder weapon from John Jones's investigation, then demonstrates to Gypsy the teleportation tubes he has installed in Metropolis, Gotham City, and New York.

Adam reveals to the captive Zatanna why Sheri Stanley has lured her there. Knowing that she is a true sorceress, he intends to duplicate her DNA code, attach it to a retrovirus, and inject himself so as to increase his own natural charismatic power to her level.

In Burt Biloxi's office, Gypsy, accompanied by J'onn J'onzz, rifles through the files to find information about Pamela Cross, then goes off alone in search of the girl, a fellow runaway.

Finally, Despero enters the earth's atmosphere, ramming the Justice League satellite and destroying its orbit. He rides the wreckage to the surface.

Justice League of America #252

July 1986

Cover Credits

Artists: Luke McDonnell (penciler) and Kyle Baker (inker; Signed)
Letterer: Gaspar Saladino

STORY

"Arrival" (22 Pages)

Credits

Editor: Andrew Helfer
Plotter, scripter: Gerry Conway
Penciler: Luke McDonnell
Inker: Bill Wray
Letterer: Albert De Guzman
Colorist: Gene D'Angelo

Feature Characters

Batman, J'onn J'onzz, Zatanna, Vixen, Steel, Vibe, and Gypsy

Elongated Man (last seen in DC Comics Presents #93)

Villains

Despero
Adam and his followers, including Sheri Stanley (all appear next in issue #255)

Other Characters

An unnamed deer hunter (first appearance; dies in this story)

An unnamed helicopter pilot (first and only appearance to date)

Citizens of Gotham City (first and only appearance to date; changed into demons in this story)

Comment

The story continues in the next issue.

Synopsis

Despero and the remains of the Justice League satellite land in northwestern Maine. When he absorbs the being of a deer hunter, he discovers that the JLA he knew has been disbanded and replaced by the one led by Batman.

Meanwhile, Zatanna, drugged to prevent her from casting any spells, watches as Adam receives her genetic pattern.

Bruce Wayne and Mari McCabe are dining in a Gotham restaurant when Despero causes a huge explosion in the center of town. Calling the other members, Batman and Vixen go into action against the villain, but are hopelessly outmatched by a being who can make the earth, buildings, and air explode or come to life around them.

The other JLA members are gathered at the Sanctuary, but the link to the Gotham City teleport tube has been broken, so J'onn J'onzz, Elongated Man, Steel, Vibe, and Gypsy fly in by helicopter. They reach Despero easily, only to find Batman and Vixen helpless victims in the inferno.

Justice League of America #253

August 1986

Cover Credits

Artists: Luke McDonnell (penciler) and Dick Giordano (inker; Signed)

Letterer: Gaspar Saladino

STORY

"Pyre" (22 Pages)

Credits

Editor: Andrew Helfer
 Plotter, scripter: Gerry Conway
 Penciler: Luke McDonnell
 Inker: Bill Wray
 Letterer: Albert De Guzman
 Colorist: Gene D'Angelo

Feature Characters

Batman, J'onn J'onzz, Elongated Man, Vixen, Steel, Vibe, and Gypsy

Villains

Despero and a Loka of Kalanor (first and only appearance to date; a dragon-like creature formed from a skyscraper)

Cameo Appearances

Despero's parents and ancestors (in flashback to his origin)

Flash, Aquaman, Wonder Woman, Green Lantern, Snapper Carr, and Jasonar (all in flashback to issue #1)

Comments

Zatanna does not appear in this story.
 The story continues in the next issue.

Synopsis

Despero, proclaiming his godhood, turns a skyscraper into an extinct creature from his planet's past. Gypsy confuses it with her illusion power, and the others knock it down by using Elongated Man as a slingshot. As Batman and Vixen discuss Despero's new power, the alien decides to reveal his origin to them.

His planet has been totally destroyed by unsafe nuclear reactors, which mutated lower forms of life into intelligent species centuries ago. His ancestors emerged as the dominant species and enslaved the planet, but they were so competitive that they killed off every family except his own. His parents tried to kill each other after his birth, and his father succeeded. Despero killed him in turn when he came of age.

Despero ruled for nearly a century, until one of his captive scientists, Jasonar, escaped and gained the help of the Justice League, who defeated him. His most recent defeat sent him to the Flame of Py'tar, an unabated nuclear fire from the holocaust on his planet, where he risked transformation or death. He now stands transformed, able to will whatever he wants into existence, as long as he renews his power in the replica of the Flame which he has created in Gotham City.

With the means of Despero's defeat revealed, Batman and Vixen escape to implement the Flame's destruction, but they find their teammates already beaten and unconscious.

Justice League of America #254 September 1986

Cover Credits

Artists: Luke McDonnell (penciler) and Jose Luis Garcia Lopez (inker; Signed)
Letterer: Gaspar Saladino

FIRST STORY

"Desperate Climax" (22 Pages)

Credits

Editor: Andrew Helfer
Plotter, scripter: Gerry Conway
Penciler: Luke McDonnell
Inker: Bill Wray
Letterer: Albert De Guzman
Colorist: Gene D'Angelo

Feature Characters

Batman, J'onn J'onzz, Elongated Man, Vixen, Steel, Vibe, and Gypsy

Villains

Despero (dies in this story) and his rock demons (first and only appearance to date)

Comments

Zatanna does not appear in this story.

Since Zatanna joins forces with Zatara and other mystics in Swamp Thing #49-50 in between issues #246 and #247, the events of issues #250-254 must immediately follow those of Swamp Thing #52-53, which also left Gotham City greatly devastated. Because neither that damage nor the change inflicted by Despero in this story is depicted in any other concurrent Batman story, it may be surmised that, after the Flame of Py'tar burned out and Gotham City began returning to normal, the damage from the Swamp Thing conflict was also repaired.

Synopsis

As Despero emerges from the Flame of Py'tar, Batman leads him away from his teammates. Recovering, the other JLA members arrive just as Despero is torturing Batman and distract the alien long enough to free their leader.

As the other heroes battle the stone demons created by Despero, Gypsy watches as Steel is blasted by the alien's third eye, and uses her illusion power to drive the villain berserk. Meanwhile, Vibe uses his abilities to blow out the Flame. Without his power source, Despero consumes himself, disappearing completely, together with his creations.

SECOND STORY

"Secret of the Temple" (4 Pages)

Credits

Editor, scripter: Joey Cavalieri
Plotter: Joe Orlando
Penciler: Jose Delbo
Inker: Pablo Marcos
Letterer: Agustin Mas
Colorist: Shelley Eiber

Feature Characters

Matt Trakker and Bruce Sato (both last seen in Mask #4; both appear next in Mask (second series) #1)

Supporting Character

Scott Trakker (last seen in Mask #4; appears next in Mask (second series) #1)

Villains

Miles Mayhem and Cliff Dagger (both last seen in Mask #4; both appear next in Mask (second series) #1)

Comment

This is a 12-page insert printed on cover stock featuring a short comic strip and a catalogue of Mask toys.

Synopsis

Scott Trakker comes upon Cliff Dagger and Miles Mayhem of VENOM, looting the ancient tablets of Monteverde's Incan temples, and falls into a pit. Matt Trakker and Bruce Sato find him missing, then hear the VENOM helicopter and prevent the villains from escaping with their loot. They capture Cliff Dagger, but Miles Mayhem gets away. Scott signals the pair with a kite he has in his backpack, and is rescued.

Justice League of America #255

October 1986

Cover Credits

Artists: Luke McDonnell (penciler) and Bill Wray (inker; Signed)

Letterer: Gaspar Saladino

STORY

"Rising" (22 Pages)

Credits

Editor: Andrew Helfer

Plotter: Gerry Conway

Scripter: Michael Ellis (pseudonym for an as-yet-unidentified writer)

Penciler: Luke McDonnell

Inker: Bill Wray

Letterer: Albert De Guzman

Colorist: Gene D'Angelo

Feature Characters

Batman, Zatanna, and Vixen

J'onn J'onzz (name misspelled "J'onn J'onzz" once in this story; appears as John Jones only)

Elongated Man (appears as Ralph Dibny only)

Steel (appears as Hank Heywood III only)

Vibe (appears as Paco Ramone only)

Gypsy (origin revealed)

Supporting Character

Sue Dibny (last seen in DC Comics Presents #93; appears next in issue #257)

Villains

Adam and his followers, including Sheri Stanley (all last seen in issue #252)

A would-be extortionist (first and only appearance to date)

Norma Simons (last seen in issue #251; no further appearances to date) and her unnamed lover (first and only appearance to date)

Guest Appearance

Zatara (last seen, deceased, in Swamp Thing #50; as a voice from the dead)

Other Characters

Pamela Cross (first appearance; a runaway teenage girl)

Burt Biloxi (last seen in issue #251; no further appearances to date)

Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds and Evan Reynolds (first name revealed in this story; all last seen in issue #250; all appear in flashback only; all appear next in issue #259)

Comment

The story continues in the next issue.

Synopsis

Zatanna is brought out of her drugged delirium by the voice of her late father Zatara, and she escapes her bonds to face Adam. The injection of her genetic pattern has caused him to gain an expanded consciousness, and he proclaims himself God. He observes the Justice League in their headquarters as they answer the team alert she had sent, while Hank Heywood is ministered to by Sue Dibny, and J'onn J'onzz and Gypsy are seeking runaway Pamela Cross.

Gypsy finds Pamela and learns her story, by telling how she had run away herself because of her father's alcoholism, constant arguing, and the first demonstration of her illusion power. She had lived in the streets until finding the Justice League, whom she looked upon as her salvation.

John Jones meanwhile has traced the murder weapon from his case to Burt Biloxi's office, and deduces its theft by Biloxi's secretary, Norma Simons. When he confronts her, she blames the murder on her lover, who had used her to kill his wife. The man shoots Jones, but only the room's open fire prevents the disguised Martian from following them as they flee.

The Justice League reaches Adam's headquarters, but Zatanna greets them outside and dismisses her call as a false alarm. This, however, is merely an illusion caused by Adam, who actually still holds Zatanna captive.

Justice League of America #256

November 1986

Cover Credits

Artists: Luke McDonnell (penciler) and Bill Wray (inker)

Letterer: Gaspar Saladino

STORY

"Back to Godhead" (22 Pages)

Credits

Editor: Andrew Helfer

Plotter, scripter: J. Marc De Matteis

Penciler: Luke McDonnell

Inker: Bob Smith

Letterer: Albert De Guzman

Colorist: Gene D'Angelo

Feature Characters

J'onn J'onzz, Zatanna, and Gypsy

Villain

Adam

Other Character

Pamela Cross

Cameo Appearance

H'ronmeer (mythological Martian god of death and fire; in J'onn J'onzz's hallucination)

Comments

Batman, Elongated Man, Vixen, Steel, and Vibe do not appear in this story.

The story continues in the next issue.

Synopsis

J'onn J'onzz and Gypsy, along with Pamela Cross, are drawn to Zatanna by mystic hallucinations created in her delirium. When J'onn revives her, she reveals Adam's machinations to them, and they find themselves awash in a sea of his illusions. Adam approaches them, begging for help.

The Martian Manhunter telepathically discovers that the expansion of his consciousness has created such a feeling of inadequacy in Adam that he is now in danger of losing whatever link he still has with reality. Zatanna at first debates whether she should help the man who had tortured her, but both the Manhunter and Gypsy convince her to try. She conjures a spell which allows her and Gypsy to enter Adam's consciousness, with Manhunter psychically calming him and maintaining a link with the real world.

Suddenly, Zatanna and Gypsy are attacked by demons, and the link is broken.

Justice League of America #257

December 1986

Cover Credits

Artists: Luke McDonnell (penciler) and Bill Wray (inker)
Letterer: Gaspar Saladino

STORY

"Coming Down" (22 Pages)

Credits

Editor: Andrew Helfer
Plotter, scripter: J. Marc De Matteis
Penciler: Luke McDonnell
Inker: Bob Smith
Letterer: Albert De Guzman
Colorist: Shelley Eiber

Feature Characters

J'onn J'onzz, Elongated Man, Vixen, Steel, Vibe, and Gypsy

Zatanna (leaves the Justice League; appears next in The Spectre (second series) #7)

Supporting Character

Sue Dibny (last seen in issue #255; no further appearances to date)

Villain

Adam (appears next in The Spectre (second series) #7)

Guest Appearance

Firestorm (in between pages 6 and 21 of Legends #1)

Other Character

Pamela Cross

Cameo Appearances

Horton the Elephant, the Lorax, and other characters created by Dr. Seuss (as illusions in Adam's mind)

Comments

Batman does not appear in this story.

Following this story, the Justice League helps Firestorm battle Brimstone in Legends #1-2.

Synopsis

Zatanna rescues Gypsy from Adam's mind-demons and mystically casts her back to reality. However, Zatanna is still caught inside Adam's mind, until her father reaches to her again from beyond and brings her to her senses. From outside, Gypsy uses her illusion power to balance the chaos in Adam's mind, but Zatanna nearly succumbs until Zatara brings her to Adam's ego and the "Godhead," the collective consciousness of all beings, living and dead, where Zatara now exists. Zatanna allows herself to be drawn in and is then rejected by the Godhead.

Zatanna is now forever changed, she tells her fellow members. Having learned the cosmic plan, she and the similarly-affected Adam decide to share their destiny together, and the pair disappears in a mystic flash.

Back at headquarters, Manhunter and Gypsy discuss Zatanna's transformation with Elongated Man, Vixen, Steel, and Vibe, but they are interrupted by the appearance of Firestorm, who requests their aid to battle a menace called Brimstone.

Justice League of America #258

January 1987

Cover Credits

Artists: Luke McDonnell (penciler) and Bob Smith (inker)
Letterer: Gaspar Saladino

STORY

"The End of the Justice League of America: Saving Face" (23 Pages)

Credits

Editor: Andrew Helfer
Plotter, scripter: J. Marc De Matteis
Penciler: Luke McDonnell
Inker: Bob Smith
Letterer: Albert De Guzman
Colorist: Gene D'Angelo

Feature Characters

J'onn J'onzz (name misspelled "J'onzz" once in this story; disbands the Justice League in this story)

Elongated Man (leaves the Justice League; no further appearances to date)

Vixen, Steel, and Gypsy

Vibe (dies in this story)

Villains

Prof. Ivo (last seen in Legends #2), his android double (revealed as an android in issue #261), his "sons" (first appearance; androids with Ivo's original face), and Psychiatric Android Model #IV0771 (designation revealed in next issue; first appearance)

Other Character

An unnamed boy from the South Bronx (first and only appearance to date)

Cameo Appearances

Superman, Batman, Flash, Wonder Woman, Aquaman, Green Lantern, and Green Arrow (as figurines)

Comments

Batman does not appear in this story.

The cover logo changes with this issue.

This issue is a Legends Cross-Over, Chapter 5.

The story continues in the next issue.

Synopsis

The immortal Professor Ivo plots his revenge on the Justice League members, whom he holds responsible for his disfigurement, by systematically killing their young recruits.

In the Secret Sanctuary, the members of the team regroup following their defeat by Brimstone (in Legends #2), humbled and frustrated. J'onn J'onzz then disbands the Justice League, in line with the President's order to halt super-hero activity. Because of his feelings of inadequacy, Vibe loses his temper once again, and is the only one not on speaking terms with the others as they leave.

In the South Bronx, the pensive Vibe meets a young boy drawing a picture of Superman, and is disappointed that the boy, another Latino, has never even heard of Vibe. Just then, one of Ivo's robots attacks, and while Paco manages to bring himself out of his depression long enough to save the boy and seemingly deactivate the robot, its hands remain animated long enough to strangle him.

The robot affixes a Professor Ivo mask to Vibe's corpse and walks away.

Justice League of America #259

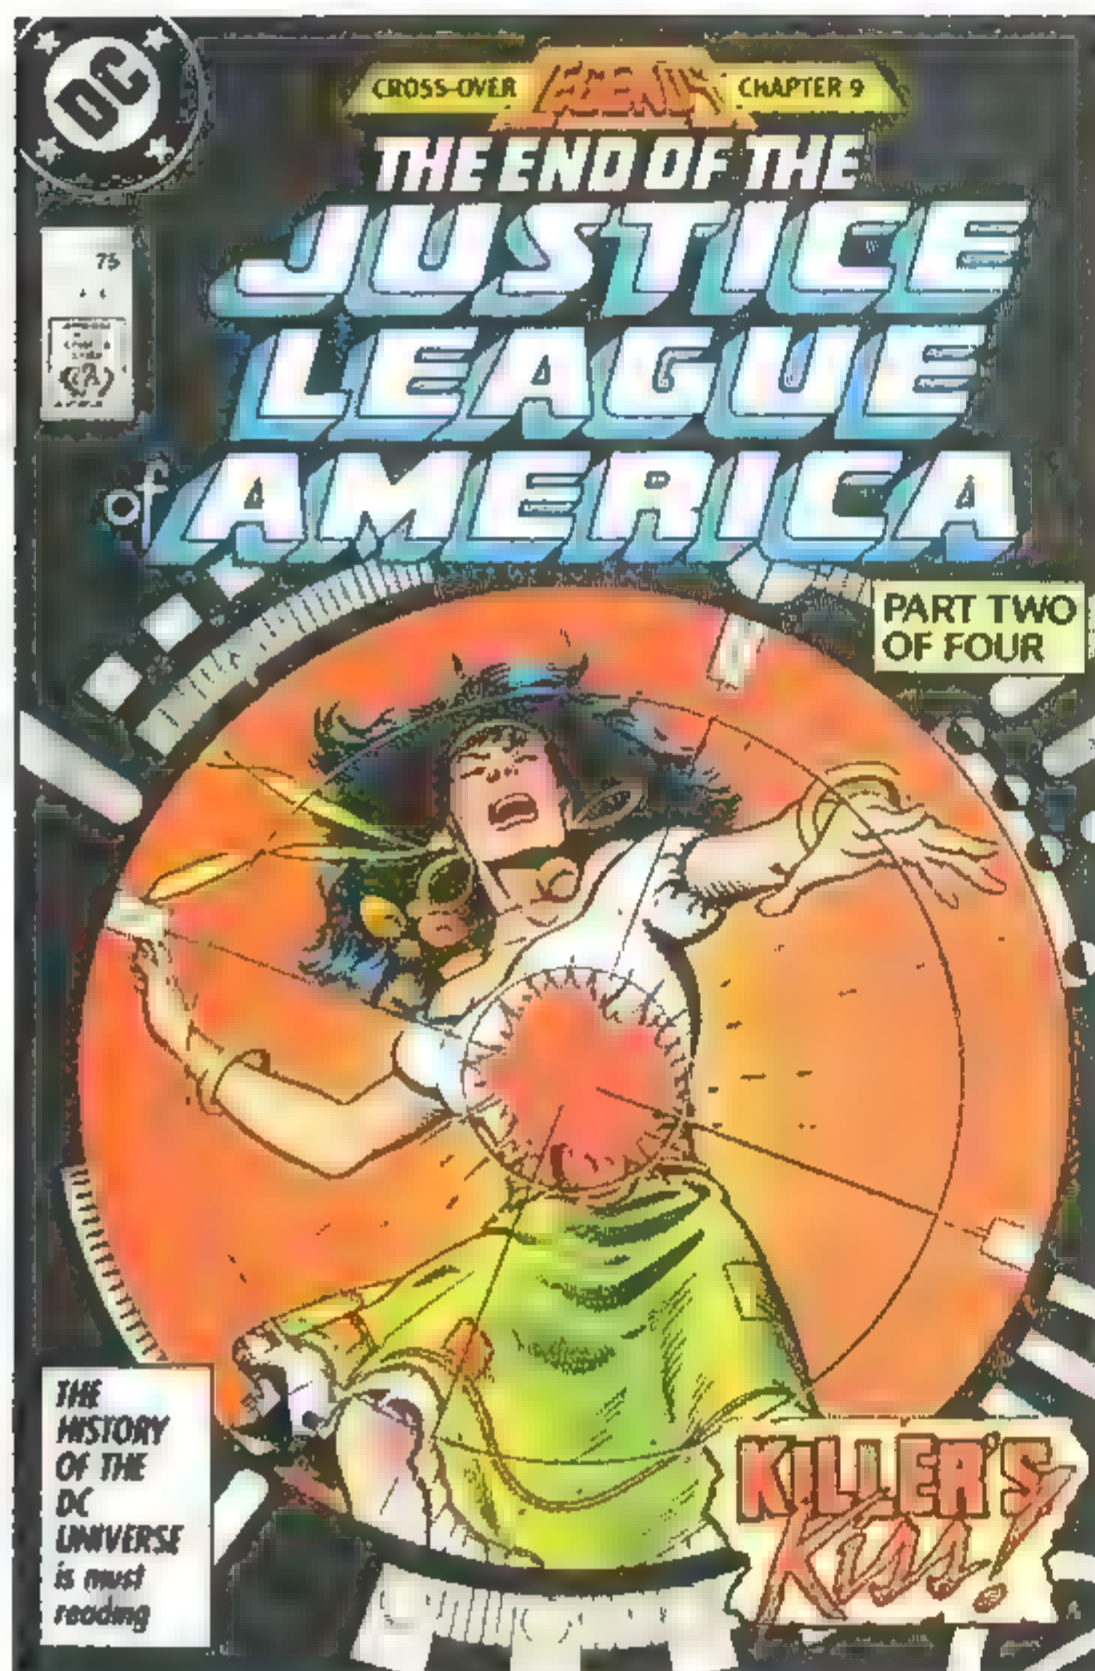

February 1987

Cover Credits

Artists: Luke McDonnell (penciler) and Bill Wray (inker)
Letterer: Gaspar Saladino

STORY

"The End of the Justice League of America: Homecoming" (23 Pages)

Credits

Editor: Andrew Helfer
 Plotter, scripter: J. Marc DeMatteis
 Penciler: Luke McDonnell
 Inker: Bill Wray
 Letterer: Albert De Guzman
 Colorist: Gene D'Angelo

Feature Characters

J'onn J'onzz, Vixen, Steel, and Gypsy

Villains

Prof. Ivo, his android double, his "sons," and Psychiatric Android Model #IV0771 (designation revealed in this story)

Other Characters

Pamela Cross (no further appearances to date)

Fred Cross and his unnamed wife (first and only appearance of both to date; Pamela's parents)

An unnamed citizen of the South Bronx (first and only appearance to date)

Two unnamed New York police officers (first and only appearance to date)

Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds and Evan Reynolds (first physical appearance; last seen in flashback in issue #255)

Cameo Appearances

Vibe (as a corpse)

Superman, Flash, Wonder Woman, and Amazo (in flashback)

Comments

Batman does not appear in this story.

This issue is a Legends Cross-Over, Chapter 9.

The story continues in the next issue.

Synopsis

The Justice League finds Vibe's body and J'onn J'onzz is able to determine that Prof. Ivo is behind the murder and to deduce his motive. However, the actions of G. Gordon Godfrey and the subsequent presidential order to cease super-hero activity prevent J'onzz from leading the League to avenge their teammate.

Meanwhile, Gypsy takes Pamela Cross back to her parents and then heads home herself. One of Ivo's androids picks her up as a hitchhiker and attacks her, but Ivo's ambivalence at killing a child prompts the android to broadcast an illusion of her death to Ivo, and Gypsy returns safely to her family.

Justice League of America #260

March 1987

Cover Credits

Artists: Luke McDonnell (penciler) and Bill Wray (inker)
 Letterer: Gaspar Saladino

STORY

"[The End of the Justice League of America:]
 Flesh" (23 Pages)

Credits

Editor: Andrew Helfer
 Plotter, scripter: J. Marc De Matteis
 Penciler: Luke McDonnell
 Inker: Steve Montano
 Letterer: Albert De Guzman
 Colorist: Gene D'Angelo

Feature Characters

J'onn J'onzz and Vixen

Steel (dies in this story)

Gypsy (leaves the Justice League; no further appearances to date)

Villains

Prof. Ivo, his android double, his "sons" (two destroyed in this story, including one disguised as a police officer), and Psychiatric Android Model #IV0771

Guest Appearance

Hank Heywood I (last seen in issue #246)

Other Characters

Mr. Reynolds (behind the scenes only), Mrs. Reynolds, and Evan Reynolds (no further appearances to date)

New York police officers (first and only appearance to date)

The citizens of New York

Comments

Batman does not appear in this story.

An erroneous version of Steel's origin is referred to in this story. It is incorrectly implied that Steel was transformed into a cyborg in order to save his life.

This issue is a Legends Cross-Over, Chapter 14.

The story continues in the next issue.

Synopsis

J'onn J'onzz follows the android that spared Gypsy and confirms his theory of Ivo's involvement, then destroys the android.

Steel and Vixen go off separately to avenge Vibe, in spite of the presidential order. Steel recognizes a policeman as an Ivo android and attacks, but is gravely injured in the battle. Hoping to cause the automaton's destruction in an energy overload, Steel battles the android until it explodes, and absorbs the blast with his body.

J'onn J'onzz arrives and flies Steel to the elder Hank Heywood's Bunker in Detroit, but the damage is too severe and finally, Steel's grandfather unplugs the life-support system, allowing the young hero to perish.

Justice League of America #261

April 1987

Cover Credits

Artists: Luke McDonnell (penciler) and Dick Giordano (inker)

Letterer: Gaspar Saladino

STORY

"The End of the Justice League of America, Conclusion: Last Stand" (22 Pages)

Credits

Editor: Andrew Helfer

Plotter, scripter: J. Marc De Matteis

Penciler: Luke McDonnell

Inker: Bob Lewis

Letterer: Albert De Guzman

Colorist: Gene D'Angelo

Feature Characters

J'onn J'onzz (appears next in Legends #6)

Vixen (leaves the Justice League)

Supporting Character

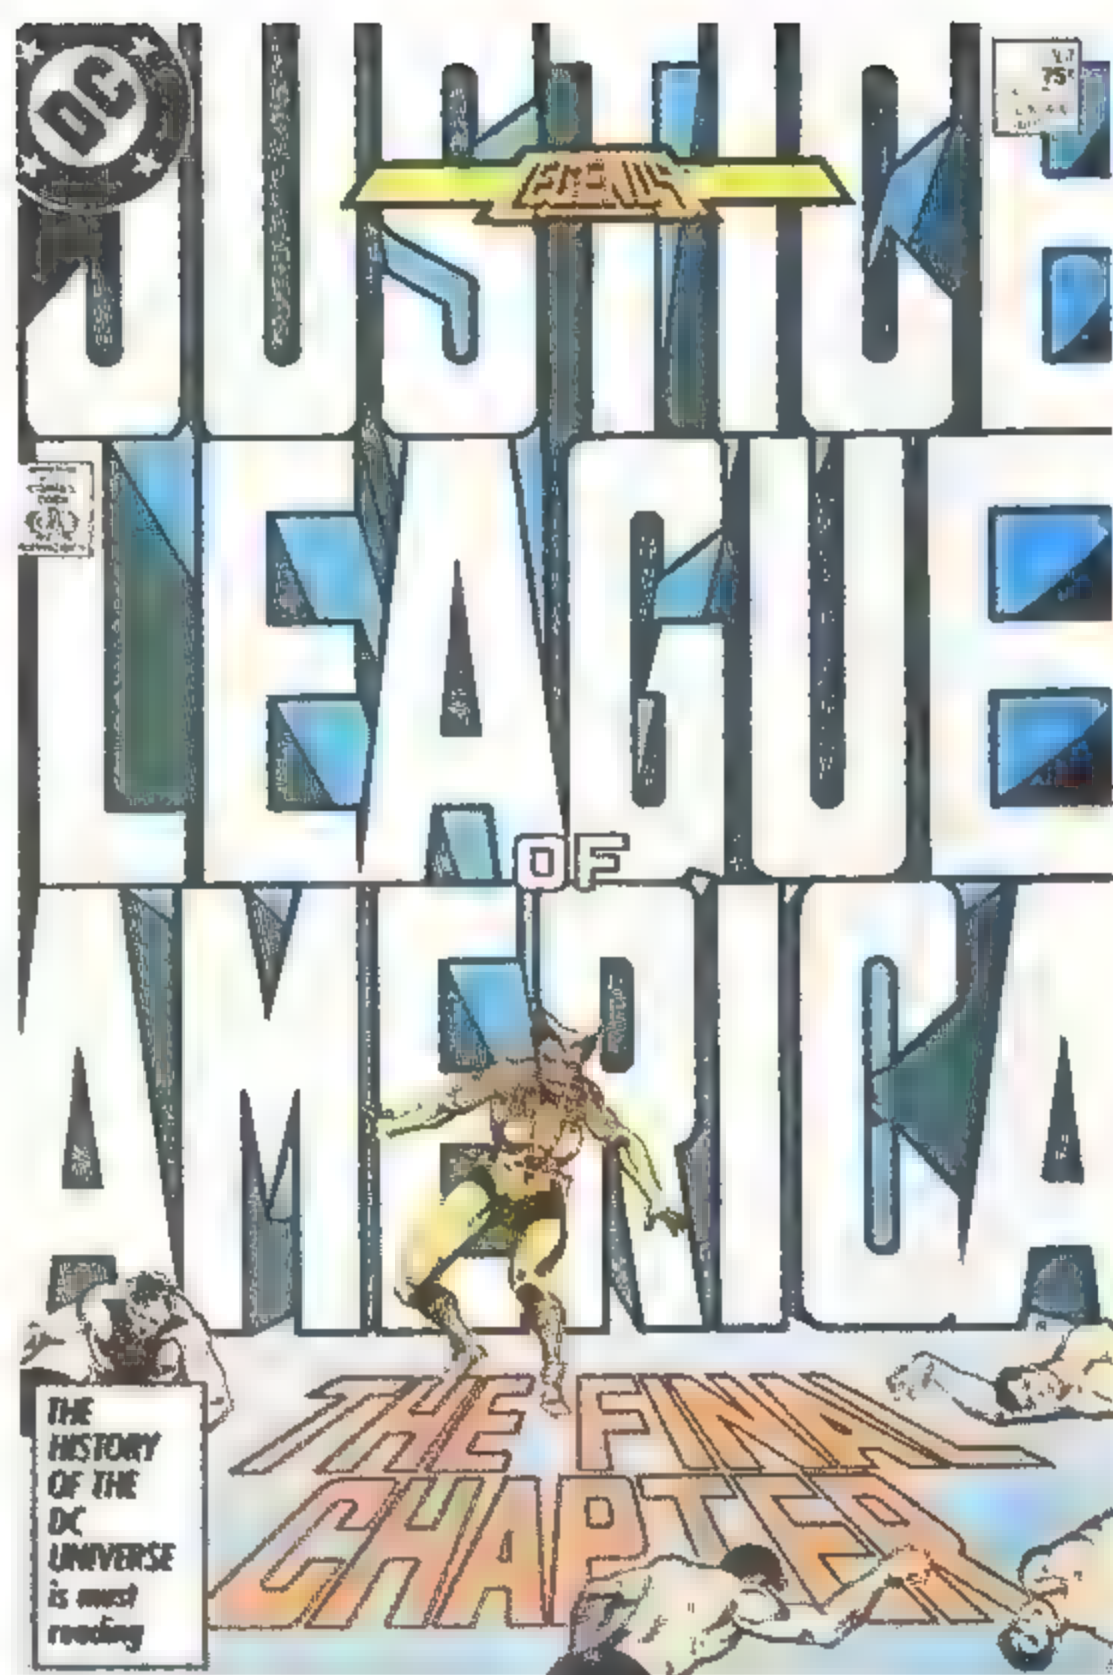

Dale Gunn (last seen in issue #246; no further appearances to date)

Villains

Prof. Ivo (no further appearances to date)

Prof. Ivo's android double (revealed as an android in this story), his "sons," and Psychiatric Android Model #IV0771 (all destroyed in this story)

A gang of street hoodlums (first and only appearance to date)

Guest Appearance

Hank Heywood I (no further appearances to date)

Cameo Appearances

Superman, Flash, Wonder Woman, Green Lantern, and Amazo (in flashback)

Vibe, Gypsy, Steel, two of Prof. Ivo's "sons," and New York police (all in flashbacks)

Comments

Batman does not appear in this story.

The cover logo changes with this issue.

This issue is a Legends Cross-Over, Chapter 21.

This is the final issue of Justice League of America. The series resumes with Justice League #1, 1987.

Synopsis

As J'onn J'onzz, Hank Heywood I, and Dale Gunn mourn Steel, Vixen tracks Ivo to his lair. Avoiding a poison drink offered by Ivo, Vixen enters into battle with his army of androids and appears to perish.

Meanwhile, using a tracking device built by Heywood, J'onn J'onzz also reaches Ivo's stronghold, but is bathed in weakening fire by the villain. However, Vixen recovers and overcomes the androids, enabling the Martian Manhunter to capture Ivo. Despite his rage, J'onzz cannot bring himself to kill the madman, and is appalled when Vixen appears to do just that. He is relieved when it turns out that she has only destroyed Ivo's android duplicate. The two then discover the real Ivo incarcerated in a padded cell.

In the aftermath, J'onn J'onzz decides that the Justice League must continue despite government regulations, but Mari McCabe declares that she will no longer become Vixen, having uncovered a side of herself that she does not wish to see again, and they bid each other goodbye. The Martian Manhunter is then surprised as an emergency signal sounds from the JLA console.

100-Page Super Spectacular #DC-6 1971

Cover Credits

Artist: Neal Adams
Letterer: Gaspar Saladino

First Reprinted Story

"Crisis on Earth-One" (from Justice League of America #21)

Second Reprinted Story

"Crisis on Earth-Two" (from Justice League of America #22)

Third Reprinted Story

[No title] (from More Fun Comics #55)

Comment

This is a Spectre story.

Fourth Reprinted Story

"Stand-in for 100 Convicts" (from Adventure Comics #190)

Comment

This is a Johnny Quick story.

Fifth Reprinted Story

"The Galleon in the Desert" (from Action Comics #146)

Comment

This is a Vigilante story.

STORY

"Crime Wore a Costume" (7 Pages)

Comment

This is a Wildcat story written and illustrated in the 1940s, but never before published. It will be fully indexed in a future volume of this Index.

Sixth Reprinted Story

"Strange Spells of the Sorcerer"
(from The Brave and the Bold #36)

Comments

This is a Hawkman story.

Special features in this issue include "A Checklist of DC Super-Heroes" and "Key to the Super-Heroes on the Cover."

This issue is titled "World's Greatest Super-Heroes" and is edited by Julius Schwartz.

100-Page Super Spectacular #DC-17 June 1973

Cover Credits

Artist: Nick Cardy
Letterer: Gaspar Saladino

First Reprinted Story

"Drones of the Queen Bee"
(from Justice League of America #23)

Second Reprinted Story

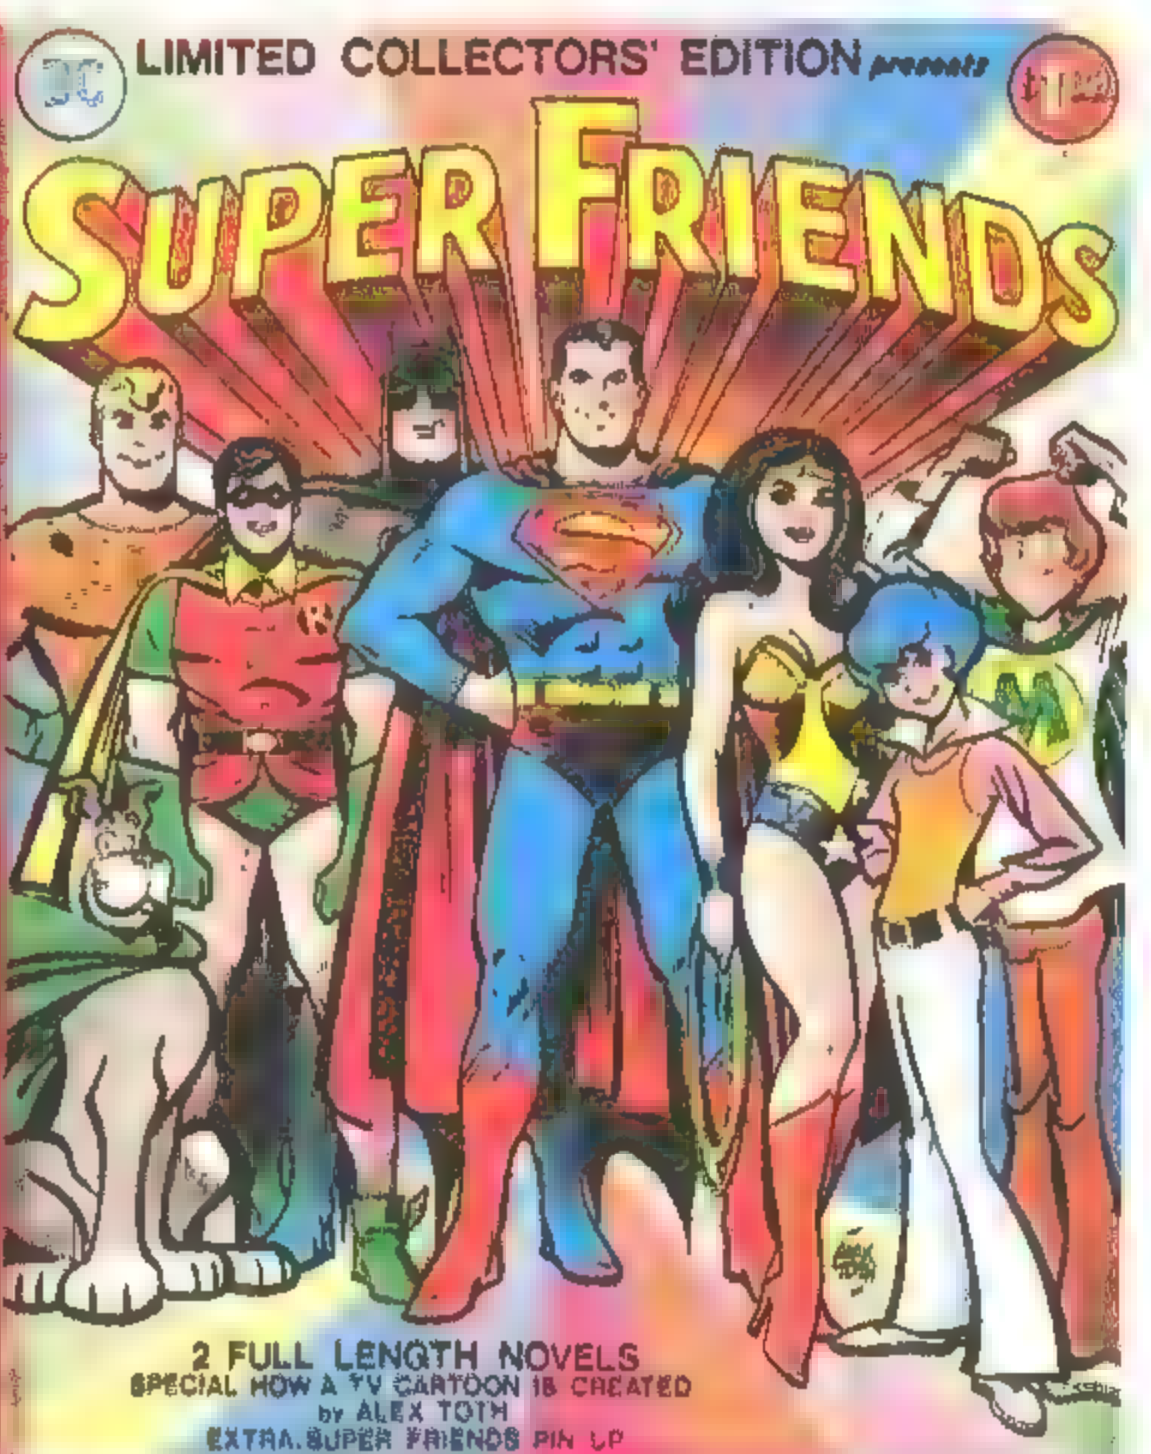

"The Injustice Society of the World"
(from All-Star Comics #37)

Comment

This is a Justice Society of America story.

Third Reprinted Story

[No title] (from Adventure Comics #65)

Comment

This is a Sandman story.

Fourth Reprinted Story

"The Card Crimes of the Royal Flush Gang"
(from Justice League of America #43)

Comments

Special features in this issue include a test feature on the history of the Justice Society and the Justice League.

This issue was edited by Julius Schwartz.

Limited Collectors' Edition

*C-41 December 1975–January 1976

Cover Credits

Artists: Alex Toth (Signed) and Curt Swan (penciler; Superman's face on front cover only) and George Klein (inker; Superman's face on front cover only)

Letterer: Gaspar Saladino

STORY

"Super Friends" (6 Pages)

Credits

Editor: Julius Schwartz

Plotter, scripter: E. Nelson Bridwell

Penciler, inker, letterer: Alex Toth

Feature Characters

Superman, Batman, Robin, Wonder Woman, and Aquaman (teamed as the Super Friends)

Supporting Characters

Marvin White, Wendy Harris, and Wonder Dog (teamed

as the Junior Super Friends)

Guest Appearances

Atom, Hawkman, Red Tornado, Green Lantern, Flash, Elongated Man, Green Arrow, and Black Canary (teamed as the Justice League of America)

Cameo Appearances

Starro, Amazo, J'onn J'onzz, Snapper Carr, Plastic Man, Metamorpho, Sargon the Sorcerer, Batgirl, Mera, Supergirl, Zatanna, and Hawkgirl (as statues in the Hall of Justice)

Comments

This is a Super Friends framing sequence of new material, and as such, constitutes a story outside official DC continuity. The story consists of the Justice League members narrating their team history to the Junior Super Friends. This story will be fully indexed in a future volume of this Index.

First Reprinted Story

"Operation: Jail the Justice League"
(from Justice League of America #61)

Second Reprinted Story

"Case of the Disabled Justice League"
(from Justice League of America #36)

Featurette

"TV Cartoons" (10 Pages)

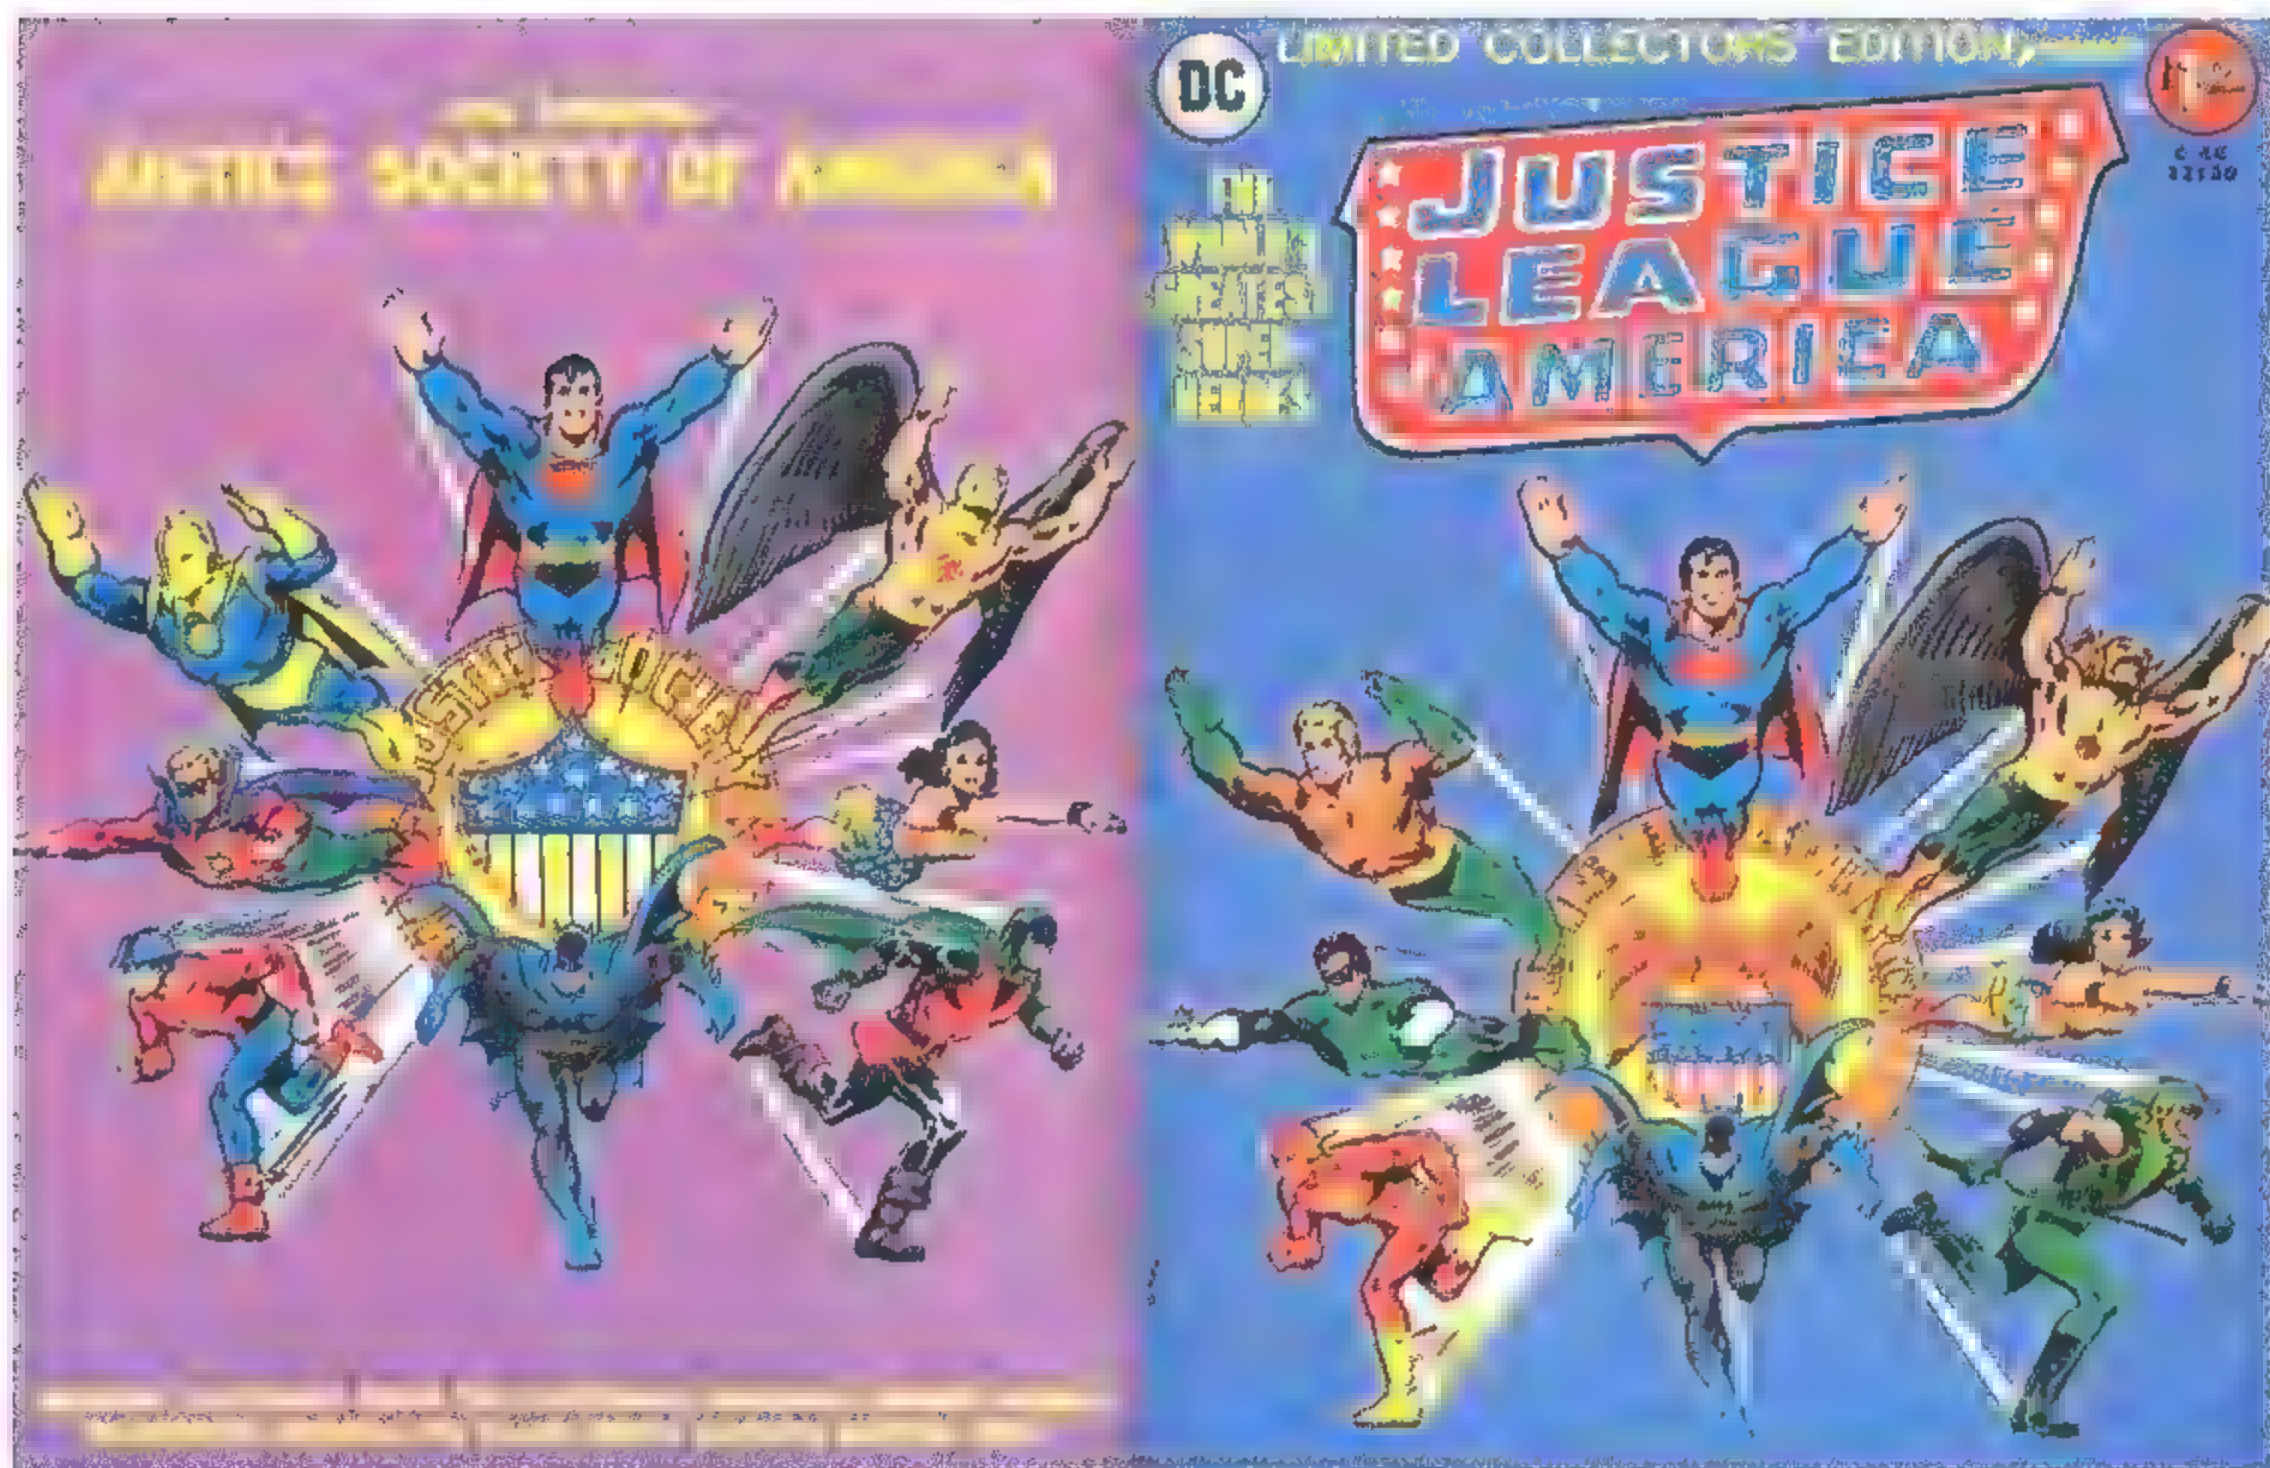

Credits

Scripter, penciler, letterer: Alex Toth

Inker: Bob Foster

Comment

Not a story; this is an illustrated text feature on the making of animated cartoons.

Special features in this issue also include "Alex Toth, a Self-Portrait," a text feature by the artist about his career.

This issue is titled "Super Friends" and is edited by E. Nelson Bridwell.

Limited Collectors' Edition

#C-46 August–September 1976

Cover Credits

Artist: Dick Giordano

Letterer: Gaspar Saladino

First Reprinted Story

"Decoy Missions of the Justice League"
(from Justice League of America #24)

Second Reprinted Story

"Deadly Dreams of Dr. Destiny"
(from Justice League of America #34)

Comments

Special features in this issue include "The JLA on TV," Alex Toth's model sheets for the Super Friends TV show; JLA pin-Up (2 Pages by Terry Austin and Dick Giordano); "The Hall of Justice," Alex Toth's model sheets for Super Friends headquarters; and Key to JLA Pin-Up (lettering by Todd Klein).

This issue is edited by Julius Schwartz.

DC Special Blue-Ribbon Digest

#11 July 1981

Cover Credits

Artists: Ross Andru (penciler) and Dick Giordano (inker; Signed)

Letterer: Gaspar Saladino

First Reprinted Story

"The Unknown Soldier of Victory"
(from Justice League of America #100)

Second Reprinted Story

"The Hand That Shook the World"
(from Justice League of America #101)

Third Reprinted Story

"...and One of Us Must Die"
(from Justice League of America #102)

Fourth Reprinted Story

"The Triumph of the Tornado Tyrant"
(from Justice League of America #17)

Comment

This issue is edited by Len Wein.

The Best of DC (Digest)

#31 December 1982

Cover Credits

Artist: Gil Kane (Signed)

Letterer: Gaspar Saladino

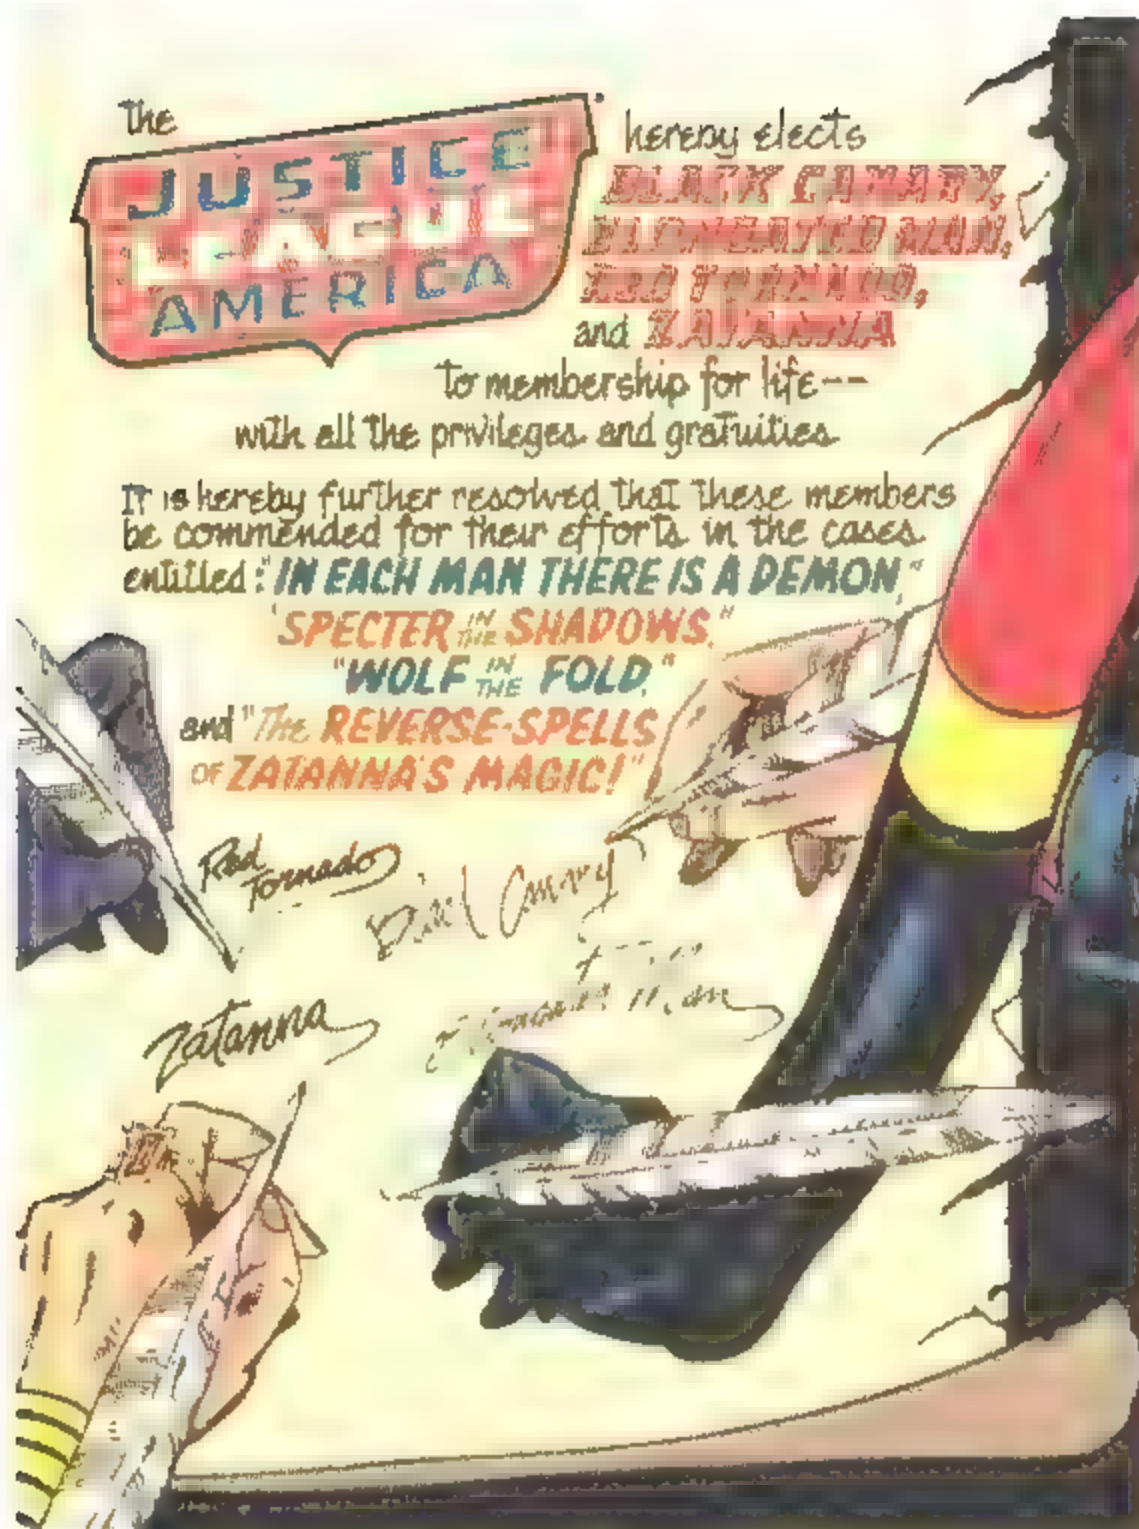

First Reprinted Story

"In Each Man There is a Demon"
(from Justice League of America #75)

Second Reprinted Story

"Specter in the Shadows"
(from Justice League of America #105)

Third Reprinted Story

"Wolf in the Fold"

(from Justice League of America #106)

Fourth Reprinted Story

"The Reverse-Spells of Zatanna's Magic-cigaM"

(from Justice League of America #161)

Comments

The cover of this issue reprises that of Justice League of America #67.

Special features in this issue include reprints of the covers of Justice League of America #75, 105, 106, 161, and 42.

In many copies of this issue, the pages are printed out of order as follows: 1-9, 90-91, 12-25, 74-75, 28-73, 26-27, 76-89, 10-11, 92-100.

This issue is edited by Len Wein.

Appendix: Solo Appearances

Many of the members of the Justice League of America have appeared in their own comics, and their solo careers will thus be chronicled in separate volumes of the DC Index. These include Superman, Batman, Flash, Wonder Woman, Aquaman, Green Lantern, Atom, Hawkman and Hawkwoman, Phantom Stranger, and Firestorm. Other members have appeared in their own strips, if not in their own titles, including J'onn J'onzz, Green Arrow, Black Canary, and Elongated Man. Their solo adventures will be covered in volumes devoted to the anthology titles in which they appeared. (Green Arrow's mini-series will most likely become part of the Green Lantern Index, since GL and GA were co-stars in the former's title for several years.)

Still other members have appeared primarily in Justice League of America, and their careers are thus entirely chronicled in this volume. These include Snapper Carr, Red Tornado, Zatanna, Vixen, Steel, Vibe, and Gypsy. Of these, Red Tornado, Zatanna, and Vixen have made extensive appearances in other titles, sometimes as guest-stars and sometimes in irregular strips of their own. Most recently, Red Tornado appeared in his own four-issue mini-series, and Zatanna in a Special originally planned as a three-issue mini-series. This final issue of the Justice League of America Index seems the most appropriate place to catalogue these special issues, together with a chronology of the characters' appearances. Space limitations prevent the inclusion of a feature on the planned but never published first issue of the Vixen's own 1978 series, which ended up with other unpublished features in DC's mimeographed Cancelled Comics Cavalcade title.

The Red Tornado #1

July 1985

Cover Credits

Artists: Carmine Infantino (penciler) and Frank McLaughlin (inker)

Letterer: Gaspar Saladino

STORY

"Storm Warning" (23 Pages)

Credits

Editor: Alan Gold

Plotter, scripter: Kurt Busiek

Penciler: Carmine Infantino

Inker: Frank McLaughlin

Letterer: Phil Felix
Colorist: Tom Ziuko

Feature Character

Red Tornado (last seen in Justice League of America Annual #2)

Supporting Characters

Katy Sutton and Traya (both last seen in Justice League of America #202)

Villains

The Construct (last seen, as Construct III, in Justice League of America #146), and his robots (first appearance; appear next in issue #3)

Guest Appearances

- Superman (last seen in Superman #411)
- Batman (last seen in Detective Comics #554; appears next in issue #3)
- Flash (last seen in The Flash #346; appears next in issue #3)
- Wonder Woman (last seen in Blue Devil #10)
- Hawkman (last seen in DC Comics Presents #74; appears next in issue #3)
- Black Canary and Green Lantern (John Stewart; both last seen in Green Lantern (second series) #190; both appear next in issue #3)
- Lana Lang (last seen in the second story in Action Comics #573; appears next in the first story in Action Comics #474)

Other Characters

- Chet (first and only appearance to date; a WGBS cameraman)
- The residents of Cliffside Park, New Jersey (first and only appearance to date)

The citizens of New York City
Cameo Appearances

- Black Canary of Earth-2, Dr. Fate, Flash of Earth-2, Hourman, Starman, and T. O. Morrow (all in flashback to Justice League of America #64)
- The Robot Killer (in flashback to World's Finest Comics #269)
- Aquaman, Elongated Man, Atom, Green Arrow, Green Lantern (Hal Jordan), Chronos, Mirror Master, Poison Ivy, and Scarecrow (all in flashback to Justice League of America #142-143)

Comment

This is the first of a four-issue mini-series.

Synopsis

Red Tornado's prevention of a freak tornado and his defeat of a group of robots result in a news report suggesting that he may have caused both incidents. This accentuates his girlfriend Kathy Sutton's concerns about his inferiority complex and lack of ambition outside of his super-hero role. Red Tornado's mood worsens when several former Justice League members order him to end his career. All these strange occurrences are the doing of the Construct, who had come back into existence after a rat disrupted the continuous-wave device beneath the World Trade Center, which the Justice League had arranged to prevent his return. The villain, a manifestation of Earth's overloaded airwaves, is now selectively controlling the minds of certain humans, including the JLA members. Because Red Tornado is immune to the villain's control, the Construct has masterminded this plot to make the android stop caring about humanity.

The Red Tornado #2
August 1985

Cover Credits

- Artists: Carmine Infantino (penciler) and Frank McLaughlin (inker)
- Letterer: Gaspar Saladino

STORY

"Shattered" (23 Pages)
Credits

- Editor: Alan Gold
- Plotter, scripter: Kurt Busiek
- Penciler: Carmine Infantino
- Inker: Frank McLaughlin
- Letterer: Milton Snappinn
- Colorist: Tom Ziuko

Feature Character

Red Tornado

Supporting Characters

- Kathy Sutton
- Traya (appears next in issue #4)

Villains

- Construct
- T. O. Morrow (last seen in Justice League of America #193)

Guest Appearances

- Superman
- Janet Klyburn (last seen in Tales of the Teen Titans #58; appears next in Action Comics #574)

Other Characters

- Dr. Zimmerman and Karls (first and only appearance)

The Red Tornado #3

September 1985

Cover Credits

Artists: Carmine Infantino (penciler) and Frank McLaughlin (inker)

Letterer: Gaspar Saladino

STORY

"The Eye of the Storm" (23 Pages)

Credits

Editor: Alan Gold

Plotter, scripter: Kurt Busiek

Penciler: Carmine Infantino

Inker: Frank McLaughlin

Letterer: Duncan Andrews

Colorist: Tom Ziuko

Feature Character

Red Tornado

Supporting Character

Kathy Sutton

Villains

Construct and his robots (last seen in issue #1; no further appearances to date)

T. O. Morrow

Guest Appearances

Superman (appears next in Superman Annual #11)

Batman and Wonder Woman (both last seen in issue #1; both appear next in Superman Annual #11)

Flash (last seen in issue #1; appears next in The Flash #347)

Green Lantern (John Stewart; last seen in issue #1; ap-of both to date; two scientists at M.I.T.'s Lincoln Laboratories)

Barbara (last name not revealed; first and only appearance to date; Kathy Sutton's co-worker at New York Job Opportunities)

Mrs. Johnson and her two children (first and only appearance to date)

Mrs. Shaw (last seen in Justice League of America #175; no further appearances to date)

Traya's fellow orphans (first and only appearance to date; Brigitta named in this story)

An unnamed pilot (first and only appearance to date)

New York City firemen (first and only appearance to date; Willis named in this story)

The citizens of New York City (Eustace named in this story)

Military officers of an unnamed country (first and only appearance to date)

Cameo Appearances

Batman, Black Canary, Flash, and Wonder Woman (in flashback to previous issue)

Synopsis

The Construct again takes control of Superman's mind, now forcing him to destroy Red Tornado's body. The android reassembles himself, but totally loses faith in his one-time friends. Meanwhile, the Construct's delight with his plot is reflected in malfunctioning machines around the world, causing T. O. Morrow, Red Tornado's creator, to realize what is happening and who is causing it.

After being rejected by a group of people he has saved from a burning building and by his young friend Traya, Red Tornado abandons humanity. At that moment, the Construct takes control of every machine on the planet.

pears next in Green Lantern (second series) #191)

Green Arrow (last seen in Green Lantern (second series) #190; appears next in the Green Arrow story in Detective Comics #553)

Hawkman (last seen in issue #1; appears next in The Shadow War of Hawkman #1)

Black Canary (last seen in issue #1; appears next in the Green Arrow story in Detective Comics #553)

Elongated Man (last seen in Justice League of America #239; appears next in The Flash #349)

Changeling, Starfire, and Wonder Girl (all in between New Teen Titans (second series) #11 and 12)

Katana and Metamorpho (both in between Batman and the Outsiders #23 and #24)

Animal-Man (last seen in Action Comics #553; appears next in DC Comics Presents #77)

Creeper (last seen, as Jack Ryder, in the first story in Action Comics #563; appears next in Blue Devil Annual #1)

Negative Woman (last seen, behind the scenes, in flashback in The Daring New Adventures of Supergirl #10; incorrectly depicted as Negative Man in this story; appears next in Swamp Thing #46)

Ragman (last seen in The Brave and the Bold #196; appears next in Infinity, Inc. #22)

Tornado Champion (last seen as a separate entity in Justice League of America #193; its personality fully merges with that of Red Tornado in this story, thus making this its final appearance)

Other Characters

Employees of La Guardia Airport and a rent-a-car company (first and only appearance of all to date)

Two unnamed campers (first and only appearance to date)

The citizens of London and other unnamed cities

Cameo Appearances

Adam Strange (in flashback to Mystery in Space #61)

Black Canary of Earth-2, Dr. Fate, Flash of Earth-2, and Starman (all in flashback to Justice League of America #64)

Synopsis

While Earth's super-heroes battle the Construct's robots, every human being who comes into contact with a machine becomes the villain's slave. Kathy Sutton seeks help from T. O. Morrow, who tells her where Red Tornado has gone just before falling under the Construct's spell himself.

In the Colorado Rockies, Kathy desperately attempts to convince the android that he is as human as anyone. When she succeeds, Red Tornado vanishes into a gigantic cyclone, which is actually the Tornado Champion. Explaining how he had merged with the android years earlier, the Champion reveals that Red Tornado had accepted him at the same moment he had accepted his humanity and that now the hero would truly have a soul. A joyous Red Tornado returns to Kathy and vows to destroy the Construct.

The Red Tornado #4

October 1985

Cover Credits

Artists: Carmine Infantino (penciler) and Frank McLaughlin (inker)

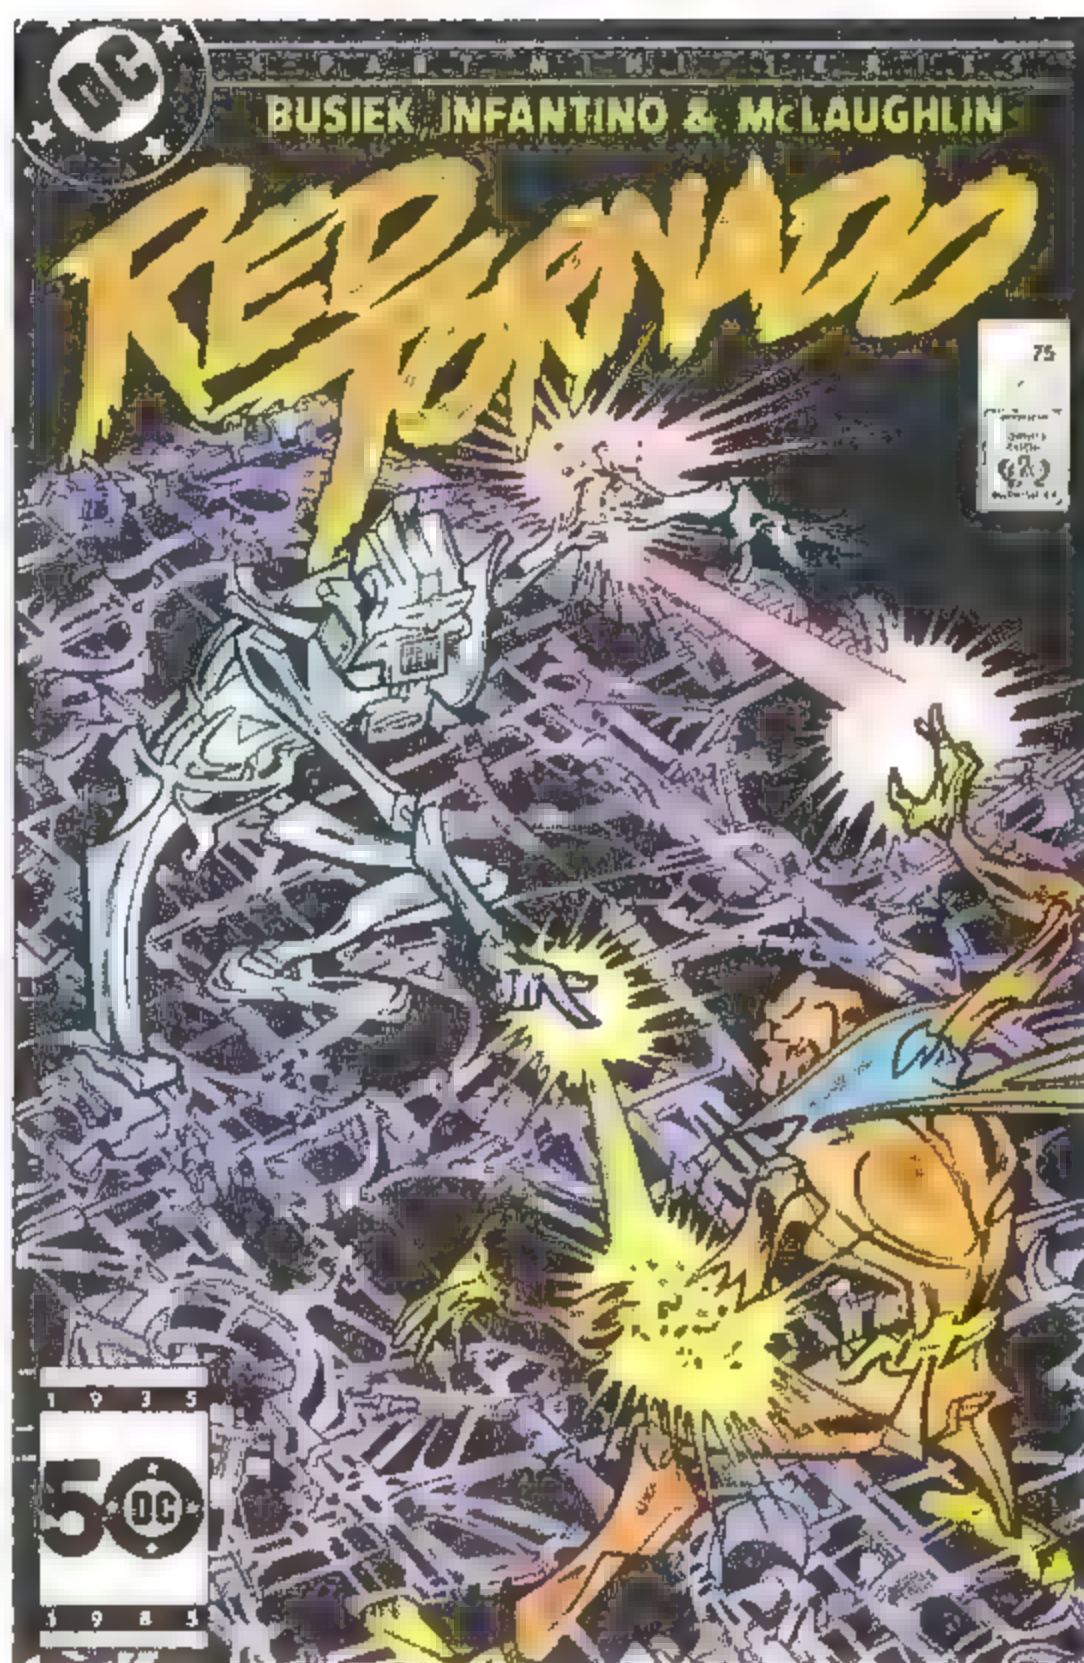

Letterer: Gaspar Saladino

STORY

"Ghost in the Machine" (23 Pages)

Credits

Editor: Alan Gold

Plotter, scripter: Kurt Busiek

Penciler: Carmine Infantino

Inker: Frank McLaughlin

Letterer: John Costanza

Colorist: Tom Ziuko

Feature Character

Red Tornado (appears next in Crisis on Infinite Earths #4)

Supporting Characters

Kathy Sutton (appears next in Justice League of America Annual #3)

Traya (last seen in issue #2; no further appearances to date)

Villains

Construct (no further appearances to date)

T. O. Morrow (appears next in Crisis on Infinite Earths #8)

Comments

Following this story, Red Tornado is captured by the Anti-Monitor in Crisis on Infinite Earths #4-5 and his powers and body structure are altered, as revealed in Crisis on Infinite Earths #8. In Justice League of America Annual #3, his android body is entirely destroyed and Red Tornado is transformed into a living tornado being similar to but more powerful than the Tornado Champion/Tyrant.

Synopsis

Red Tornado confronts the Construct in T. O. Morrow's lab and is badly damaged by one of the villain's robots. When the Construct attempts to take control of the hero's mind, he discovers that their minds have become linked. The electronic plane is quickly freed from the villain's control by Red Tornado, who chides the Construct for displaying the same emotions he ridicules humanity for having.

Red Tornado allows Morrow to escape, adding that any debt he may have owed his creator has now been paid. As John Smith, back in New York, the hero resigns from his temporary office worker job in favor of a more fulfilling position and considers adopting a new alter ego.

A Chronological Listing of the Red Tornado's Appearances

Justice League of America #64-65 (joins the Justice Society), 72-74, 82-83, 100, 102 (seemingly destroyed), 105, 106, (joins the Justice League), 107-110, 112, 114
Action Comics #443 (with the Justice League)
Justice League of America #117-119, 121
Wonder Woman #218
Justice League of America #127
Wonder Woman #220-222 (with the Justice League)
Justice League of America #129 (destroyed), 145 (revived), 146, 149-150
Action Comics #480 (with the Justice League)
Justice League of America #151-153, 155-158
Batman Family #20
Justice League of America #159-160
Justice League of America #210-212 (these issues constitute an Untold Story published out of chronological sequence, hence their placement here)
Justice League of America #161
DC Comics Presents #7 (with Superman)
Justice League of America #162-168
Wonder Woman #256
The Brave and the Bold #153 (with Batman)
Justice League of America #169-172, 174-176, 179-180
World's Finest Comics #262, 264
Detective Comics #493
World's Finest Comics #265-268
Justice League of America #183
The Brave and the Bold #172 (with the Justice League)
Justice League of America #189-190
World's Finest Comics #269
Justice League of America #192-193
World's Finest Comics #270, 272
Justice League of America #195
DC Comics Presents #42, 43 (with the Justice League)
Justice League of America #200, 202
The Fury of Firestorm #4 (with the Justice League)
Justice League of America #209
Wonder Woman #300 (with the Justice League)
Superman #387 (with the Justice League)
Justice League of America #214-217
Action Comics #546 (with the Justice League)
Justice League of America Annual #1
Justice League of America #218-220
World's Finest Comics #300, 302 (with the Justice League)
Supergirl #20 (with the Justice League)
Justice League of America #224, 226-230
Justice League of America Annual #2 (leaves the Justice League)
Red Tornado #1-4
Crisis on Infinite Earths #4, 5, 8
Justice League of America Annual #3 (destroyed and transformed)

Zatanna Special #1 1987

Cover Credits

Artist: Gray Morrow
Letterer: Gaspar Saladino

STORY

"Summoning" (64 Pages)

Credits

Editors: Alan Gold and Barbara Randall
Plotter, scripter: Gerry Conway
Penciler, inker, colorist: Gray Morrow
Letterers: Ben Oda and Carrie Spiegle and John Costanza

Feature Character

Zatanna (last chronological appearance in Hawkman (second series) #4; next chronological appearance in Justice League of America #247; see third Comment below)

Supporting Character

Jeff Sloane (name also misspelled Sloan in this story; last seen in Justice League of America #202)

Villains

Allura (last seen in the Zatanna story in Adventure Comics #415) and her demon familiar (first and only appearance to date)

Despair (first and only appearance to date)

Other Characters

Sindella (last seen, deceased, in Justice League of America #166; appears as a spirit)

Highlord (name rendered High Lord in this story; last seen in Justice League of America #165; no further appearances to date)

The Hidden Ones (last seen in Justice League of America #166; no further appearances to date)

An unnamed theatre manager and members of Zatanna's audience (first and only appearance of all to date)

Kasim (first and only appearance to date; Zatara's servant)

Ravenmane and Brass (first and only appearance to date; two magical horses)

Kohl (first appearance; guardian of the Shrine of Ages; dies in this story)

Cameo Appearance

Zatara (as an illusion)

Comments

The editor's note in this issue incorrectly states that this story precedes Justice League of America #248; it actually precedes issue #247.

The Official Hawkman Index #2 incorrectly states that Zatanna appears in Hawkman (second series) #4 in between Swamp Thing #50 and Justice League of America #247. Rather, the story in this issue takes place in between Hawkman (second series) #4 and Justice League of America #247.

Prior to this story, Zatanna moves from Detroit to New York with her fellow Justice League members in Justice League of America #246. She then participates in a gathering of mystics in Swamp Thing #49-50, during which her father Zatara perishes. In an effort to forget her bereavement, Zatanna briefly resumes her stage magician's act, during which time she helps Hawkman and Hawkwoman defeat the Kite-Man in Hawkman (second series) #4, and has the adventure chronicled in this issue. Following this story, Zatanna returns to New York to search for her missing roommate, Sheri Stanley, as seen in Justice League of America #247.

Synopsis

When magical apparitions, including a recurring image of her late mother, begin appearing to Zatanna and to her friend and manager Jeff Sloane, she realizes that she is being summoned back to the realm of Sindella's people, the Hidden Ones.

Departing from Shadowcrest, the estate of Zatanna's recently deceased father Zatara, the two friends survive a variety of mystic spells and arrive in the Secret City of the Homo Magi. There they find the Hidden Ones' leader, Highlord, stricken with an unknown illness which has felled most of his people. At his direction, however, Zatanna is able to enact a ritual which revives the Hidden Ones.

Then, in order to decide whether to remain with her mother's people or to return to the outside world, Zatanna, together with Jeff, makes the perilous journey to the Shrine of Ages, whose ancient guardian gives her only cryptic clues to her destiny before crumbling to dust.

Attacked by an unknown foe, Zatanna magically transports Jeff back to Shadowcrest before she is overcome, only to wake to find herself at Shadowcrest as well, with a living Zatara. When she eventually realizes that her father and her surroundings are merely illusions, she is confronted by the villainess responsible, the elemental Allura, a former foe of Zatara's. Only after she faces and defeats the personification of her own despair is Zatanna able to foil Allura's scheme and return to Jeff's side.

A Chronological Listing of Zatanna's Appearances

DC Special Blue-Ribbon Digest #5 (origin, with Zatara)
Hawkman #4 (1st story)
The Atom #19
Detective Comics #336 (with Batman and Robin)
Green Lantern (second series) #42
Detective Comics #355 (with Elongated Man)
Justice League of America #51 (with Zatara and the Justice League)
The Flash #198 (2nd story)
Justice League of America #87
World's Finest Comics #207, 208
Adventure Comics #413-415, 419, 421
Justice League of America #100-102
Supergirl #1-4, 7 (with Supergirl)
Action Comics #434 (with Green Arrow)
Justice League of America #114, 163 (flashback), 161 (joins the Justice League), 162-168, 171-174
DC Comics Presents #18 (with Superman)
Justice League of America #175-180, 182
The Brave and the Bold #169 (with Batman)
Justice League of America #187-188 (1st story)
The New Teen Titans #5 (flashback with the Justice League, 4 (with the Justice League)
Justice League of America #190, 191, 194, 195
Superman Family #214 (with Clark Kent)
World's Finest Comics #274-275
Justice League of America #198-199
The Phantom Zone #2 (with the Justice League), 3-4 (behind the scenes)
Justice League of America #200
World's Finest Comics #276-278
Wonder Woman #291-293
Justice League of America #202

The Fury of Firestorm #4 (with the Justice League)
Justice League of America #207
All-Star Squadron #14 (with the Justice League)
Justice League of America #208
All-Star Squadron #15 (with the Justice League)
Justice League of America #209
Wonder Woman #300 (with the Justice League)
World's Finest Comics #285, 286, 287 (behind the scenes), 288
Justice League of America #217
Action Comics #546 (with the Justice League)
Justice League of America Annual #1
Justice League of America #219, 220, 223
World's Finest Comics #300, 302 (both with the Justice League)
Justice League of America #225-227
Saga of the Swamp Thing #24 (with the Justice League)
Supergirl #20 (with the Justice League)
Blue Devil #4-5
Justice League of America #228-230
Justice League of America Annual #2
Justice League of America #233-239
Blue Devil #13
Justice League of America #241-243
Infinity, Inc. #19 (with the Justice League)
Justice League of America #244
Detective Comics #557 (with the Justice League)
Crisis on Infinite Earths #4, 5/All-Star Squadron #53
Justice League of America Annual #3
Crisis on Infinite Earths #9
Justice League of America #245
Crisis on Infinite Earths #11-12
Justice League of America #246
Swamp Thing #49-50
Hawkman (second series) #4
Zatanna Special #1
Justice League of America #247-257
The Spectre (second series) #7

(Continued from inside front cover)

JLA #107

The Freedom Fighters made their last chronological appearance in flashback in Freedom Fighters #10.

JLA #109

Hawkgirl was last seen in World's Finest Comics #209. Eclipso and Bruce Gordon appear next in Metal Men #48.

JLA #111

Tattooed Man appears next in DC Super-Stars #10. Chronos appears next in Action Comics #443.

JLA #112

Amazo appears next in DC Super-Stars #10. A Comment should be added to read: "The Justice League appears in Action Comics #437 following this story."

JLA #113

Sandman makes his next chronological appearance, not merely his next appearance, in the second story in DC Comics Presents #42.

JLA #114

The Comment should be amended to read: "The Justice League holds court concerning Wonder Woman's battle with Mars in Wonder Woman #215, then battles a group of their individual arch-enemies led by Zazzala the Queen Bee in Action Comics #443, following this story."

JLA #116

Matter Master appears next in DC Super-Stars #10.

JLA #119

The second Comment should be amended to read: "The Justice League listens to the Phantom Stranger's account of Wonder Woman's battle with Felix Faust in the second story in Wonder Woman #218, then the JLA appears with Batgirl in the Supergirl story in Superman Family #171, following this story."

JLA #121

A Comment should be added to read: "The Justice League listens to the Elongated Man's account of Wonder Woman's latest case in Wonder Woman #219 following this story."

JLA #123

Gambler was last seen in Green Lantern #30.

JLA #124

The Feature Characters listing was omitted and should include Batman, Flash, Aquaman, Green Arrow, Hawkman, and Black Canary. Gambler appears next in Crisis on Infinite Earths #9.

JLA #125

Two-Face was last seen in First Issue Special #7.

JLA #128

Guardians of the Universe made their last chronological appearance in Action Comics #443. Lex Luthor appears next, disguised as Danny Harris, in Action Comics #456.

JLA #128

Guardians of the Universe make their next chronological appearance in Green Lantern (second series) #90. Red Tornado, it should be noted, is restored to life in issue #145.

JLA #129

A Comment should be added to read: "The Justice League congratulates Wonder Woman on her efforts in the Nekron Adventure in Wonder Woman #223 following this story."

Issue #5

JLA #135

Flash of Earth-2 and Green Lantern of Earth-2 were both last seen in All-Star Comics #59. Hawkgirl was last seen, behind the scenes, in issue #128. Blockbuster appears next in Secret Society of Super-Villains #12.

JLA #136

Shade was last seen in issue #124 and his next chronological appearance is in flashback in issue #184. Joker of Earth-2 appears next in the Huntress story in Wonder Woman #280.

JLA #137

Hawkgirl appears next in Secret Society of Super-Villains #7. Batman of Earth-2 makes his next chronological appearance in the Huntress story in DC Super-Stars #17. Bulletman appears next, as Jim Barr, in the Shazam! story in World's Finest Comics #253. King Kull appears next in Shazam! #34.

JLA #139 (second story)

Iceicle was last seen in All-Star Comics #66 and appears next in flashback in Secret Society of Super-Villains #12. Shadow-Thief appears next in Secret Society of Super-Villains #1.

JLA #140

Guardians of the Universe were last seen in Green Lantern (second series) #91.

JLA #141

Guardians of the Universe appear next in the Green Lantern story in Five Star Super-Hero Spectacular #1.

JLA #143

Scarecrow was last seen in The Joker #8 and appears next in Batman #291. Tattooed Man was last seen in DC Super-Stars #10. Chronos was last seen in DC Special #27 and appears next in Cancelled Comics Cavalcade #2, in a story intended for the never-published Secret Society of Super-Villains #16. Poison Ivy appears next in Batman #291.

JLA #144

A Comment should be added to read: "As noted in the introduction to this Index, this story is not part of the current DC chronology." Another Comment should be added to read: "The Plastic Man who appears in this story is not to be confused with the Plastic Man who appears in Plastic Man (second series) #1-10."

JLA #145

Tom Fagan was last seen in Freedom Fighters #6 and appears next in DC Super-Stars #18.

JLA #146

Phantom Stranger appears next in House of Secrets #50. Queen Hippolyta was last seen in Wonder Woman #226 and appears next in Super-Team Family #14.

JLA #147

Psycho-Pirate appears next in issue #195.

JLA #148

Mordru appears next in flashback in Superboy and The Legion of Super-Heroes #245.

JLA #150

Phantom Stranger was last seen in House of Secrets #50 and appears next in DC Super-Stars #18.

JLA #151

Prof. Amos Fortune appears next in Batman #305. Silver St. Cloud appears in between Detective Comics #473 and #474.

JLA #154

Morgan Edge was last seen in Superman #319 and appears next in the Jimmy Olsen story in Superman Family #189. Iris Allen appears next in issue #157. Alfred Pennyworth was last seen in World's Finest Comics #250 and appears next in Batman #298. Jimmy Olsen was last seen in All-New Collectors' Edition #C-56 and appears next in Superman Family #189.

JLA #155

Ra's Al Ghul was last seen in Batman #294 and appears next in Batman Spectacular 1978..

JLA #156

Phantom Stranger was last seen in Showcase #100.

JLA #157

Jean Loring Palmer appears next in the Atom story in Action Comics #487. Phantom Stranger's next chronological appearance is in issue #211. Solovar's last chronological appearance was in Flash Spectacular 1978 and he appears next in The Flash #294. Sue Dibny's last chronological appearance was in Flash Spectacular 1978. Enrichetta Negrini was last seen in Super-Team Family #13.

JLA #158

Abra Kadabra was last seen in The Flash #247 and appears next in the Flash story in Adventure Comics #464. Chronos was last seen in Cancelled Comics Cavalcade #2, in a story originally intended for the never-published Secret Society of Super-Villains #16. Mirror Master appears next in The Flash #277.

JLA #159

Lord of Time was last seen in Kamandi #58. The first Comment should read in part "Wonder Woman (of Earth-1)." The third Comment, regarding the Justice Society, is in error and should be omitted.

JLA #160

Huntress appears next in Batman Family #18. Traya appears next in issue #174. Flash of Earth-2 and Green Lantern of Earth-2 both appear next in the Green Lantern of Earth-2 story in Green Lantern (second series) #108. Sue Dibny was last seen in the Elongated Man story in Adventure Comics #459 and her next chronological appearance is in The Flash #277. The first Comment should read in part "Wonder Woman (of Earth-1)." The third Comment should be amended to read: "Following this story, the Justice League battles alien invaders, as revealed in issue #210-212, then consults with Superman in Action Comics #489."

JLA #161

Zatanna's last chronological appearance was in flashback in issue #163. A Comment should be added: "Following this story, the Justice League appears in the Green Arrow story in World's Finest Comics #255."

JLA #165

Highlord appears next in Zatanna Special #1.

JLA #166

Green Lantern of Earth-2 made his last chronological appearance in All-Star Comics #74. The Hidden Ones appear next in Zatanna Special #1. The Synopsis should be rephrased to indicate that Sindella's funeral and the Injustice Society's attack did not happen simultaneously, but rather two days apart.

JLA #167

Hijack was last seen in Secret Society of Super-Villains #4.

Issue #6JLA #168

Blockbuster appears next in Batman #308. Star Sapphire II appears next in Green Lantern (second series) #192. Reverse-Flash's next chronological appearance is in DC Comics Presents #1.

JLA #170

Supergirl was last seen in Superman #338.

JLA #173

Inspector Henderson was last seen in the Clark Kent story in Superman Family #195.

JLA #174

Black Lightning's next chronological appearance is in World's Finest Comics #261. Inspector Henderson appears next in the Clark Kent story in Superman Family #202. Jean Loring Palmer was last seen in the Atom story in World's Finest Comics #260 and appears next in the Atom story in Action Comics #516.

JLA #175

Mrs. Shaw appears next in Red Tornado #2.

JLA #176

The second Comment should be amended to read: "The Flash seeks the Justice League's aid in The Flash #276-277, some time after this story."

JLA #177

Commissioner Gordon was last seen in the third story in Detective Comics #489 and appears next in Detective Comics #490.

JLA #179

Firestorm, Doreen Day, and Cliff Carmichael were all last seen in DC Comics Presents #17.

JLA #182

Green Arrow appears next in World's Finest Comics #265. Felix Faust was last seen in Secret Society of Super-Villains #7.

JLA #183

Huntress's last chronological appearance was in Adventure Comics #466. Mr. Miracle, Big Barda, and Oberon were all last seen in DC Comics Presents #12. Fiddler, Shade, and Icicle all make their last chronological appearance in flashback in next issue.

JLA #185

Power Girl and Huntress's next chronological appearance is in issue #195. Highfather, Darkseid, and the Fourth World characters all appear next in DC Graphic Novel #4 (not #5), which can now be placed in proper chronological sequence.

JLA #188 (second story)

Jean Loring Palmer appears next, behind the scenes, in the Atom story in Action Comics #521. Commissioner Gordon was last seen in the Batgirl story in Detective Comics #499.

JLA #191

Amazo appears next in DC Comics Presents #71. Sue Dibny was last seen in The Flash #296.

JLA #193 (first story)

T. O. Morrow appears next in Red Tornado #2. Tornado Tyrant II makes no further appearances to date.

JLA #193 (second story)

Franklin D. Roosevelt should be listed as a Supporting Character and makes his last chronological appearance in flashback in All-Star Squadron Annual #3. Sky Pirate, Alchemist, Wotan, Monster, Solomon Grundy, and Per Degaton all make their last chronological appearance in flashback in All-Star Squadron #3. In any case, the Monster was the JSA foe from All-Star Comics #20, not All-Star Squadron #20.

JLA #194

Green Arrow was last seen in World's Finest Comics #269. Sue

Dibny appears next, behind the scenes, in the Clark Kent story in Superman Family #211. Thomas Kalmaku was last seen in Tales of the Green Lantern Corps #3.

JLA #195

Green Arrow appears next in World's Finest Comics #270. Huntress's last chronological appearance was in issue #185. Robin of Earth-2 was last seen in World's Finest Comics #271. Power Girl was last seen in issue #185. Brainwave was last seen in Showcase #99.

JLA #197

Superman of Earth-2 appears next in DC Comics Presents Annual #1. Huntress's next chronological appearance is in The Brave and the Bold #194. Robin of Earth-2 appears next in the Huntress story in Wonder Woman #283. Floronic Man appears next in Saga of the Swamp Thing #21. Signalman appears next in Batman #400.

JLA #199

A Comment should be added to read: "Following this story, the Justice League appears in DC Comics Presents #43, then battles the escaped Kryptonian criminals in Phantom Zone #2-4."

JLA #200

Snapper Carr was last seen in issue #181. Queen Hippolyta and the Amazons were last seen in the Wonder Woman story in DC Comics Presents #41 and appear next in Wonder Woman #288.

JLA #201

An unnamed FBI agent should be listed under Other Characters. Poachers and aborigines (in flashback to issue #153) and a judge (in flashback to issue #169) should be listed under Cameo Appearances.

JLA #202

Kathy Sutton and Traya were both last seen in issue #193. Jeff Sloane appears next in Zatanna Special #1.

JLA #203

Jack's first name is revealed in Who's Who #19.

Issue #7

The credits on the inside front cover are incorrect. Reviewers should include Ron Bialkowski, Robert Klein, Andrew MacLaney, Lou Mougin, Mike Tiefenbacher, Mark Waid, and John Wells. George Olskevsky alone should be listed as Consultant.

JLA #205

David Lorenzo appears in flashback only.

JLA #206

A Comment should be added to read: "Following this story, the Justice League appears in the Air-Wave story in Action Comics #535." The third Comment is incorrect: Aquaman and Green Lantern appear in flashbacks. Only Black Canary and Hawkman appear only as part of the museum display.

JLA #207

Just before they exchange places with the Crime Syndicate of Earth-3 in this story, Justice Society members Dr. Fate, Green Lantern of Earth-2, Power Girl, Huntress, and Starman (behind the scenes) briefly encounter the Just'a Lotta Animals in Captain Carrot and His Amazing Zoo Crew! #15.

JLA #209

Power Girl appears next in Wonder Woman #300. Franklin D. Roosevelt and Harry Hopkins both appear next in All-Star Squadron Annual #1.

JLA #216

A Comment should be added to read: "The Justice League appears in DC Comics Presents Annual #2 following this story."

JLA #217

In the Comment, the word "deduction" should be substituted for "destruction."

JLA #218

Prof. Ivo appears next in Superman Special #3.

JLA #219

Dr. Alchemy II was last seen in The Flash #289. Wizard was last seen in issue #168.

JLA #220

Wizard also appears in flashback which occurs following his appearance in Action Comics #484 and preceding issue #21. Jim Corrigan of Earth-1 is not to be confused with the black Jim Corrigan of Earth-1 who appears in Black Lightning and Jimmy Olsen stories.

JLA #232

Supergirl appears next in Tales of Legion of Super-Heroes #314.

Annual #2

The Ramone family includes four daughters, counting Rosa, not three.

Be sure to join us in the pages of future volumes.

THE OFFICIAL DC COMICS

INDEX

CHECKLIST

On Sale Now...

The Official Crisis on Infinite Earths Index

☐ 1 $2.00

The Official Crisis on Infinite Earths Crossover Index

☐ 1 $2.00

The Official Doom Patrol Index

☐ 1 $2.00 ☐ 2 $2.00

The Official Justice League of America Index

☐ 1 $2.00 ☐ 2 $2.00 ☐ 3 $2.00
☐ 4 $2.00

The Official Teen Titans Index

☐ 1 $4.00 ☐ 2 $2.00 ☐ 3 $2.00
☐ 4 $2.00 ☐ 5 $2.00

The Official Justice League Index

☐ 5 $2.00 ☐ 6 $2.00

The Official Hawkman Index

☐ 1 $2.00 ☐ 2 $2.00

The Official Legion of Superheroes Index

☐ 1 $2.00 ☐ 2 $2.00

Send check or money order,
U.S. funds only, to:
Independent Comics Group
P.O. Box 199
Guerneville, CA 95446

INDEPENDENT COMICS GROUP

